TWO MEN KILLED CARDINAL GIBBONS ELKS' BIG DAY

By Explosion in Auto-Gas Works at Albany, N. Y.

ALBANY, Aug. 6.—Two men are dead and one fatally injured as a result of a series of explosions today in the plant of the Auto-Gas Co. situated in the north end of Albany.

The dead are:

JOHN MALONE of Albany, aged 16.

WILLIAM FORT, laborer, of Watervliet, aged 26.

The injured:

John Harrison of Milwaukee, manager, will probably die.

James J. Kelly, fireman, cut on neck, will recover.

The plant of the Auto-Gas Co. and an adjoining building were completely wrecked. About twenty buildings in the immediate vicinity were damaged by the force of the explosion. The estimated damage to the buildings is about $25,000.

Man Placed Under Arrest in Woburn

The police court room was practically deserted this morning. There were a few prisoners in the dock, but were only about six spectators in the gallery and about as many witnesses occupied benches on the floor and the only lawyer in sight was Dennis J. Murphy, who appeared for the government in a case.

John F. Jackson, a young man, who at one time was held in high esteem by his friends, but who fell a victim to drink, was in court charged with being drunk. He was arrested in the square last night by Patrolman Hamilton.

Jackson asked for a chance to do better, but the court said that while Jackson might mean all right he was permeated with rum and cigarettes and there was no use in giving him a chance. Judge Pickman thought it would be more beneficial to send him to jail where he would be kept away from drink.

He was sentenced to two months in jail. Judge Pickman decided that four days in jail would do Michael J. Riley more good than imposing a fine and therefore Riley was sentenced to spend the next few days at the stone mansion in Thorndike street.

Alphonse Bellemare and Joseph Fontaine, second offenders, were fined $5 each.

William Mead pleaded not guilty of using profane language on the 13th of June. Mrs. Kate McGrath of 466 Central street, whose cousin is the wife of the defendant, testified that Mead came to her house and called her by names. Mrs. Rogers, an aunt of the previous witness, corroborated the testimony offered by Mrs. McGrath.

Mead claimed that there was a conspiracy against him and that the women folks were trying to separate him and his wife. The court imposed a fine of $2.

LABORERS HURT

BOSTON, Aug. 6.—Two laborers were more or less seriously injured today by the collapse of a three story wooden house under construction on Greenough street near Blue Hill avenue in the Mattapan section of the city. There were about twenty persons working on the building when the collapse came. First there was a tremor, then the front wall went out into the street and the two side walls fell over, leaving only the rear wall standing. With the exception of two laborers all of the workmen escaped without injury. It is understood that the other two men were not dangerously hurt. The cause of the collapse has not yet been determined.

Visitors From Cambridge Escorted to Cars in Street Parade—Mammoth Clam Bake and Sports Among the Features

The Elks, B. P. O. E., otherwise known as the Best People on Earth, were in town this noon in hundreds, and at 12.30 they were all corralled in Merrimack Square and loaded into 30 special cars in which with the music of a band and the songs of a merry multitude they proceeded to Mountain Rock grove where the annual outing of the Lowell lodge, the biggest event of its kind in the annals of the local lodge and one of the biggest ever held in the state took place.

When it was voted to hold an outing, the promoters added "and let's have an outing that will long be remembered by all who attend it." This was agreeable to all and one look at names of the committees appointed to get it going is sufficient to know that it was a big affair for all the committee members are real hustlers and all hustled to make this the grand event of Lowell lodge.

of Boston and Lynn Elks were met on the arrival of the 11.30 train from Boston. The line was then re-formed and the Elks marched to Merrimack Square where they were joined by a special electric car and by many brothers from Lawrence and Haverhill.

Upon boarding the ten specials the word was given and all put out for the scene of the day's frolic. Upon arrival at the grounds they were met by more Elks from Nashua and Manchester and shortly after their arrival the sports were started opening with a ball game between Lowell and Cambridge lodges, the winners to receive a fine Elk for chains given by Past Exalted Ruler, Fred H. Rourke who purchased them while in the west as delegate to the national convention of the Elks. The fobs are of the latest design. The line-up of the Lowell team was as follows:

ANDREW A. GRAY Secretary of Committee

MICHAEL J. MARKHAM Chairman of Outing Committee

The affair was an outing and, of course, with covers laid for the out-come. With a couple of hundred out-come Elks as guests of honor and many friends of the order who are not members. The club house was crowded in charge of Harry Decker, the Public Club. The Elks were met by a large and happy surrounded himself with a huge corps of assistants and was there with a bake that would gladden the heart of old Lucullus himself.

Fred H. Rourke, the busy chairman of the sports committee, arranged a fine program of sports and secured a number of prizes for the sports.

At 11.30 o'clock this morning the local Elks to the number of over 100 assembled at their rooms in Middle street and headed by a band composed entirely of members of the lodge and the Northern depot where 20 members of Cambridge lodge including the Cambridge baseball team and a party was served and shortly after 4 o'clock the clam bake was served with every-body happy and hungry. After the bake informal sports were enjoyed along with a band concert and the evening shadows were lengthening on the scene when a merry throng took its departure from the grove.

John J. Duff, the exalted ruler of Lowell lodge, was general manager of the outing. Former Councilman, Michael J. Markham was chairman; Andrew A. Gray secretary, and J. Arthur Bennett treasurer of the general committee in charge; and following are the sub-committees:

Golden's committee: Thomas A. Golden, Fred H. Rourke and Andrew A. Gray.

OFF TO PLYMOUTH

Pollard's Employees On a Merry Outing

The fifth annual outing of the A. G. Pollard Co. Employees' Mutual Benefit association was held today at Plymouth, Mass., and in honor of the event the company closed the big store all day. At 7.15 o'clock this morning the party left Merrimack square in two special electric cars, each of which bore a banner making known the identity of the merry throng. They proceeded to Rowley wharf, Boston, where the steamer Betty Allen was taken for the delightful south shore ride to Plymouth. Upon arrival at the historic town all proceeded to the Sumner house, where dinner was served. After dinner the points of interest were viewed until 3.30, when the boat was taken for home. The minstrel circle, the members of which were the guests of the occasion, gave a show on the boat. Upon arrival in Boston lunch will be served and the party is expected home at 10.30 p. m.

BRYAN'S APPEAL

He Issues Letter Calling for Campaign Contributions

FAIRVIEW, LINCOLN, Neb., Aug. 6.—Of more than usual significance was the visit to Fairview yesterday of Frank H. Lynch of St. Paul, democratic national committeeman from Minnesota, and manager of Gov. Johnson's campaign for the presidential nomination at the Denver convention.

Mr. Lynch's presence at Fairview was at the special request of Mr. Bryan. He lost no time in conveying to the democratic nominee Gov. Johnson's assurances of loyal support of the democratic ticket and his intention to take the stump in Mr. Bryan's behalf.

"There is no authority toward Bryan in Minnesota," said Mr. Lynch. "While I do not predict that the democrats will carry Minnesota this year, I think they have a good chance."

Mr. Lynch declared that nothing rankled in Gov. Johnson's heart because he was defeated for the nomination.

B. F. Nelson, president of the State Fair association of Minnesota, who accompanied Mr. Lynch to Fairview, invited Mr. Bryan to attend the state fair in St. Paul and deliver an address. The invitation was accepted, the date being fixed at Aug. 21, but with the understanding that there should be no charge for admission to the grounds on that day.

It was announced that the St. Paul speech would be the only one that Mr. Bryan will make in Minnesota during the campaign. The subject to be discussed will probably be the tariff.

Mr. Bryan last night caused to be given out for publication the following appeal for campaign contributions:

"Wanted—Campaign contributions. From citizens of the republic who favor these democratic propositions:

"Tariff revision by the representatives of the consumers of the products

COTTON SUPPLY

Has Been Cornered Again by Livermore

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—The entire supply of cotton stored in New York city and vicinity available for delivery on contract has been cornered by J. L. Livermore, the young broker who last May made more than $1,000,000 in a corner on the July option. The New York visible supply consists of only 23,000 bales of cotton, worth about $1,800,000.

During the last two weeks cotton has advanced in this market over $2.50 a bale, and the shorts have been bordering upon panic. An enormous quantity of October contracts have been sold short in New York because of the general belief of the trade in reports from the cotton states that an enormous crop will be gathered. As a consequence, prices in New York have been depressed far below the commercial value of cotton in the south.

In consequence, stocks at this center have been bought and shipped away, so that its available supply is the lowest in several years. Mr. Livermore and several other cotton men began buying August contracts several weeks ago, until they are said to have acquired every bale not under contract to the spinners and other consumers.

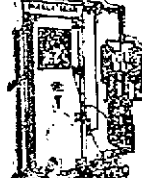

The situation has been made all the more remarkable by the fact that the Farmers' union has secured pledges from nearly every planter in the south

CUT HER THROAT

Boston Man Attacked His Landlady

SUNAPEE, N. H., Aug. 6.—Eugene Harriman, a barber at Georges Mills, is alleged to have attacked Mrs. Ella Wallace, a summer boarding house keeper, and cut her throat as she was sitting at dinner yesterday. He then made his escape to the woods, where he was found some hours later unconscious, with a deep gash in his throat. He had attempted suicide with the razor with which he is alleged to have slashed Mrs. Wallace. Both the man and his victim are in a critical condition with the chances apparently against the recovery of Harriman.

The cause of Harriman's alleged attack upon the woman is not clear, but it is said that they had recently quarreled. Both came to Georges Mills from Boston early in the summer, the man opening a barber shop, while Mrs. Wallace conducted a small hotel. She is about 35 years old.

It is said that last Sunday while Mrs. Wallace was rowing with a male friend, their boat upset a canoe in which Harriman was paddling, and he was thrown into the water. Mrs. Wallace said the man in her boat faintly and that she had to give her attention to him so that she was unable to assist in the rescue of Harriman.

Mrs. Wallace formerly conducted a lodging house at 17 Claremont park, Boston. Harriman was a lodger at the same house.

According to George Perkins, first selectman of Sunapee, and George Hastings, chief of police, Mrs. Wallace said that Harriman entered the room where she was, and throwing her to the floor, slashed her throat twice with a razor. The assault occurred in the Tanglewood hotel, of which Mrs. Wallace was manager.

CAPT. BALDWIN A TOTAL WRECK

Made Another Successful Flight Yesterday

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—Captain Baldwin made another successful flight last evening at Fort Myer in his new dirigible balloon. The balloon, a balloon within the balloon, was tried for the first time. Mr. Curtiss, who again handled the planes and the motor, increased the speed yesterday, although the maximum was not attained. As Mr. Curtiss increased the speed of the propeller, the airship in the face of a seven mile breeze pitched forward like an ocean liner. Several times the spectators gasped as the ship turned an angle of 20 degrees at once, almost standing on its pointed nose. It was then that the utility of the planes was demonstrated. Eight minutes after leaving the ground, Mr. Curtiss intimated that the speed was 15 miles an hour, twenty going with the wind and ten going against it.

When informed of the accident which destroyed Count Zeppelin's airship, Captain Baldwin said: "It breaks my heart to hear such news. This accident will have the effect of retarding progress in aeronautics. The Zeppelin balloon is the great eastern of the aerial sea. I have always believed in Count Zeppelin's ideas, as he outlined them to me. His airship is the ship of the future. He is far ahead of the times. Such a type of ship must be built up to gradually."

BERNE, Switzerland, Aug. 6.—An unprecedented record in Alpine climbing was made yesterday by Mr. Burr of Boston. Accompanied by expert guides he ascended in one day the peaks of the Jungfrau, the Moench and the Eiger. The start was made very early in the morning and the first mountain was climbed by the light of lanterns.

WAS ARMY NURSE

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 6.—The body of Miss Katherine Prescott Worthington, famous as the translator of the works of Balzac, whose death occurred Tuesday night at her summer home in Jackson, N. H., will be cremated and the ashes brought to this city for burial, where she had resided for the greater part of her life. Miss Worthington was 72 years old. She suffered a hip fracture from a fall several weeks ago, but was thought to be recovering, when complications developed, causing her death.

Miss Worthington was born in Ipswich, Mass., the daughter of Rear Admiral Ralph Randolph Worthington, R.N. Her mother was Caroline (French) Worthington, a niece of Commander Edward Dredge, U. S. N. Miss Worthington came to Newport in 1848, and had since made this city her home.

During the civil war she volunteered as a nurse with the Union army, and later was sent to Fort Sumter, where as a nurse of the army hospital camp. So deep an impression did her army experiences make upon her that in 1858 she issued her well known treatise, entitled "The Other Side of War."

Peside translating Balzac, in an edition of 40 volumes, Miss Worthington also issued an edition of Meliere in six volumes, and many other French translations.

his shattered craft, has left by train for Friedrichshafen.

The airship had left Naeckenheim, the scene of its first mishap, and overnight had visited Mayence and started on the homeward journey. Soon after its departure, however, it was found that the motor was working badly owing to the fusing of metal in the groove in which the piston rod ran. This was caused by friction. Zeppelin, contently, was compelled to rely on one more on a rear platform throughout the night, thus considerably reducing his speed. During the night, he made an ascent of nearly 6000 feet, losing a considerable quantity of gas, thus depriving the balloon of some of its buoyancy.

When over Echterdingen, Count Zeppelin decided to descend to dry land. Although this was the first time such a manœuvre had been attempted with a rigid ballast, a landing was effected easily and smoothly, only one of the steel wire stays being broken. The engineers immediately set about making the repairs to the balloon which rode an anchor in the center of a large force of military which had been called out to keep the crowds away. Count Zeppelin telegraphed to Friedrichshafen for more gas cylinders, and then went to a neighboring inn for luncheon. He was away slightly over two hours and was destined only to see the wreck of his airship when he returned.

The local railway companies ran special cars in order to convey curious sight-seers to the spot, while pedestrians, automobilists and wagons loaded with peasants also flocked to the vicinity. It is estimated that the crowd around the monarch of the air numbered nearly 40,000 persons.

At 2:30 o'clock, yesterday afternoon, the wind suddenly sprang up. Some of the weather-wise bystanders called the attention of the officers to the fact that a storm was brewing and advised them to secure the balloon. Their warnings were unheeded.

The balloon swayed to and fro, sometimes rising a few feet from the ground. At 2:55 o'clock, a formidable gust of wind struck the airship broadside. At first the craft keeled over and then her bow rose in the air, carrying with it a number of soldiers who were holding the ropes. After passing for a moment at a height of fifty feet, it dashed forward against a cluster of fruit trees. The impact

WON THE WAGER

Golfer McLeod Did Good Work

CHICAGO, Aug. 6.—As a result of a wager, Fred McLeod, professional golfer of the Onwentsia Country club at Lake Forest, last night made the eighteen hole course in 33 strokes, aided only by the dim light of a half moon. He made the first nine holes in 35 and was going at a fast clip until the fourteenth hole was reached. Then the moon went behind a cloud and the rest of the course was finished in the dark. McLeod used iron clubs throughout, driving with a putter to make the ball go straight and using a midiron through the fair green. He laid nearly all his approaches dead and did not lose a ball. The wager was that he could not make the first nine holes in better than 45.

The Secret of Giving Presents With Tea Exposed

Our Prices Sustained by Figures

How you can save 35c on every dollar's worth of Tea you buy of us EXPLAINED, and the quality of the Tea verified by customers

How it's done. The so-called "Retail Traveling Tea Salesman," or in other words, the Tea Peddler, gets 20c on every dollar's worth of Tea he sells for the gift-enterprise Tea dealer, and if the customer does not take a present, he will be allowed on 60c Teas 10c, or about 15 per cent; other Teas proportionately. Consequently, 20 per cent of 60c is 12c; adding the 10c for not taking a present makes 22c; deduct that from 60c, the dealer's original price of the Tea, leaves just 38c, which is our asking price for all 60c Teas, so you can see you save just 22c on every pound of 60c Tea you buy of us, or 35c on every dollar's worth you buy. WE DO NOT HAVE ANY TEA PEDDLERS OUT FOR US.

WHAT OUR OUT-OF-TOWN CUSTOMERS TELL ABOUT THE QUALITY OF TEAS AND COFFEES

What Several of Our Lawrence Customers Have to Say: "We can't buy Teas for 60c in Lawrence equal to yours at 35c, or Coffee for 35c equal to your Capital Coffee at 25c."	What They Say in Haverhill: "We are obliged to send you for all our Teas and Coffee, simply because we can't buy for 70c as good Teas as yours at 35c."	A Lady from Bath says: "We are obliged to pay 70c for a Tea not as good as your 35c Tea, in Bath." She took five pounds and will send for more later.

A Lady in Fitchburg wrote her daughter: "Be sure and send me some more of Nichols' India Ceylon Tea at 35c, as I can't find anything here as good at 60c." A Man Who Lives in West Virginia sent word to his folks here to be sure and send him 10 lbs. Nichols' Tea, 35c kind, as he was unable to get such Tea there at 70c. | A Lady from Providence, R. I. who formerly lived in Lowell, always sends or gets her Tea of us, as she says she doesn't like the 60c Tea she gets there, and can't use it after using our 35c Tea. |

SPANISH WAR VETS DANISH EXPLORERS WILL RECOVER

Arrangements for National Encampment Sept. 1

Perished in Far North After Achieving Success

The outing of Gen. Adelbert Ames command, United Spanish War Veterans, of Lowell will be held at Camp Phalanx, Tyngsboro, Aug. 16. The members of this camp will be represented at the coming annual national encampment to be held in Boston under President Roosevelt will be a guest. The national officers of the body and the Boston executive committee have been laboring hard to get Comrade Roosevelt to attend this encampment, and they now feel certain that he will be there.

This is the first encampment of the Spanish War Veterans which can be termed a reunion of the men who fought in Cuba and the Philippines during 1898. It will be the fifth annual encampment of the organization, the previous affairs of the kind having been nothing more than delegate conventions. This year being the tenth anniversary of the war with Spain, and about the time the Massachusetts organizations were returning from the front, the department of Massachusetts decided to make the affair one in which the veterans, whether delegates or not, could participate.

Responses are being received every day from the states of the Union. Every state and territory will be represented by delegates, and the executive committee is satisfied that every state and territory will be represented in the big parade, which is to take place on Wednesday, Sept. 2. From present indications the parade will be made up of at least 15,000 veterans.

One of the largest camps in New York, Sergeant Hamilton Fish camp, is coming in large numbers. This camp will be the guests of George J. Whittier camp 1 of Boston.

The committee in charge of the encampment is holding several meetings each week, and has arranged the following program of events for the entertainment of the guests:

Monday evening, Aug. 31, the delegates and invited guests to Boston will be tendered a banquet. The commander-in-chief and his staff will also be guests at the banquet. It is not known at present whether President Roosevelt will be at the banquet or not. His stay will be a very short one, and may be deferred until the day of the parade, Sept. 2.

The convention will be opened in Faneuil hall on the morning of Sept. 1 at 3 a. m., by Commander-in-Chief Hale. At the conclusion of the morning session the delegates and members of the order will be taken to Nantasket beach for a shore dinner.

The party will return in time for the big initiation into the order of the Sergeant on Boston Common. At 8 p. m. there is to be a monster athletic exhibition, in which teams from the militia and army fortifications in and around Boston will take part.

Wednesday, Sept. 2. The morning will be taken up with a session of the veterans in Faneuil hall. The session will adjourn in time for the big parade, which will start from the Back Bay at 2 p. m. The parade will be full of features. The crew that cut the cable at Cienfuegos will be a big attraction. Every member of this crew is a medal of honor man. The crew that manned the Merrimack with Hobson will have a special place in line with them are not with the Atlantic fleet on the way to the antipodes, will be another feature, and if the men can be found, Dewey's Manila fighters will be designated in a prominent spot in the parade.

After the parade the 1st, 2d, 5th, 6th, 8th and 9th regiments and the naval brigade will have big reunions. For visiting veterans, who are not members of these organizations, the ladies' auxiliary has planned a big baked bean supper in the South armory. In the evening all hands will get together again for a monster campfire in Mechanics building, which will be addressed by Gov. Guild, Mayor Hibbard and the visitors, who will include President Roosevelt, Admiral Dewey, Rear Admiral Schley, Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood and other well known veterans and officers to be designated to represent the army and navy by President Roosevelt.

THE AMERICANS

Received in Audience by the Pope

ROME, Aug. 5.—The pope today received the American pilgrims who left New York last month under the direction of Right Rev. James McGean and J. J. McGean of Brooklyn. Mr. McGean and Mr. McGean and his wife were first received in private audience. Mr. McGean presented the pope with a building in New York valued at $50,000 which is to be given to the Italian Salesian fathers for the establishment of a college. Subsequently the pontiff received the pilgrims numbering over 300 who were escorted by Archbishop Farley. Mr. McGean presented the pope with $600, the offerings of the pilgrims. The pope made a brief address in reply in which he thanked the pilgrims and imparted the apostolic blessing.

COPENHAGEN, Aug. 6.—Mylius Erichsen, the Danish explorer, has met his death in the Far North. According to information just received in a telegram by a committee of the Greenland exploring expedition Erichsen and two of his companions that sailed from Copenhagen in June, 1906, to the unexplored regions of the northeastern coast of Greenland, perished in a snow storm. The three men were on an expedition over the ice when disaster overtook them.

Otherwise the exploring party has been successful. Large tracts of unknown land have been mapped out and the entire northeastern coast of Greenland has been charted.

JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER

Saves Himself and Friends From a Serious Accident

CLEVELAND, Aug. 6.—A man said by bystanders to have been John D. Rockefeller by quick action last night probably saved himself and automobile load of friends from what might have been a serious, if not fatal accident.

The machine was being driven along Euclid avenue about seven o'clock. At the Cleveland and Pittsburg railroad crossing the auto was stopped while one of the party in the machine talked with a person who hailed them from the sidewalk. While thus standing a train approached and the gates were lowered. The west gate fell across the machine and would have hit one of the occupants of the car had not the man supposed to be Mr. Rockefeller caught the guard and ordered the chauffeur to go ahead quickly. As they attempted to cross the tracks, progress was interfered with by the east gate. The crossing watchman by this time became active and raised the east gate an instant later. The auto cleared the tracks only a few seconds ahead of the passenger train. When the accident became known no one could be raised at the Rockefeller home to confirm or deny the identity of the automobilist thought to be Mr. Rockefeller.

CAPT. BALDWIN

Made Successful Flights in Airship

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—Although Thomas S. Baldwin already has made two successful flights in the new dirigible balloon built for the army they were both made under difficulties. The original propeller shaft built for the machine was found defective at the last moment and a temporary shafting has been used during the Fort Myer flights. A new shaft in which it is believed the difficulties encountered so far have been overcome has arrived and as soon as it has been adjusted, probably today, Captain Baldwin will make a preliminary flight for speed.

At yesterday's test one of the most enthusiastic witnesses was Captain W. W. Kimball, a member of the navy examining and retiring boards. He has been detailed to attend the Fort Myer preliminary trials and to report his observations to the navy department. Assistant Secretary of the Navy Navy-berly will attend the official trials.

While the navy is slow to take up anything that is in an experimental stage, the possible use of aerial craft in our branch of the service is being closely followed. An airship such as Captain Baldwin's would be invaluable in time of war. It could be launched from the deck of a battleship and also could land there with comparative ease. If such an airship were available at San Diego, its services would have been worth many times its cost. Such a ship should accompany every fleet. The airship should be so constructed for naval use that it could be used as a captive balloon or a dirigible. The advantages of balloons for reconnaissance and locating mines have been proven invaluable by both the French and the Russians.

DUTCH STEAMER

ENTERED THE PORT OF CARUPANO, VENEZUELA.

WILLEMSTAD, Curacao, Aug. 6.—The Dutch steamer Prince Wilhelm II. arrived here today from Demerara. She stopped on her way up at Carupano, Venezuela. The report authorities did not prevent her entrance or having the ordinary communication with the shore. This is a departure from the previous attitude of Venezuelan officials who have recently been preventing Dutch vessels from calling at the ports of the republic.

43 MUSTER ENTRIES

Vets Will Flock to the Big Muster in This City

Sec. Clay Confident That Over 60 Machines Will be Here — Butlers Try Out New Machine Tonight — Torrents Will Enter-tain Red Jackets of Cambridge

The famous Red Jackets of Cambridge have entered the lists for the muster, August 20, and while in Lowell will be the special guests of their old-time rivals, the Torrents, of this city. Capt. Fred E. Britton.

The muster committee met last evening and discussed plans. Everything is going along smoothly and all that is needed to make the muster a complete success is good weather.

Secretary Clay announced the entry of the following additional machines: Hingham Vets of Hingham; Concord Vets of Concord, N. H.; Town of Dedham; Deluge of Somerville; E. H. Whiting of Holyoke; Red Jackets of Cambridge and Neptune of Newburyport. This totals the number entered up to date at 43 and it is expected that more than 60 will have filed out entry blanks before the night of closing which will be Aug. 15.

The committee headquarters will be located at the Mercantile hotel and at 8 o'clock on the evening of the 10th the drawing for positions in the parade will be made.

The regular meeting of the New England League officials was held Tuesday at Boston and from what was reported there it is expected that the coming affair in Lowell promises to be the largest and most successful of its kind ever held. Several of the companies who at the last meeting known the fact that they did not intend to enter, have changed their minds and expect to be on hand to contest for the many prizes offered.

Tonight the Butler Vets will have their regular practice on the North common and the new Gufstown machine on which the Butlers have an option will be tried out. Whether the Butlers decide to purchase the New Hampshire machine or not, they cannot use it in the muster as the old machine is entered and must be used. But the members are of the opinion that the new machine is "a good way" and will bring them prizes in the future. The Butlers from Jim Walker down to the humblest member were very enthusiastic about this year and large attendances are to be found at every practice.

THE MOHAIR CLUB DAY OF FASTING

Will Play in Boston For Members of Hebrew Churches

The Mohair cricket club will go to Boston Saturday and will play the team representing the Boston cricket club at Franklin field. The local team will be represented by the following: Captain, D. H. Barrett, Priestly, Barber, Shaw, Croft, Jr., Hyde, Hunt, Whitaker, Foxon and Wamsley; reserve, J. Harrison; umpire, W. Croft; scorers, H. E. Williams; mascot, Marshall.

On Friday evening, August 14th, the club will throw open the doors for a ladies night and as they have been so helpful in the social gatherings, the committee intends to provide one of its best evening's entertainment possible. Col. A. M. Chadwick will be master of ceremonies and the following committee has been appointed to make the arrangements: Walter Holden, Charles Jenkins and Alex E. Williams.

Walter Holden leaves about the middle of the month for England.

Quite a contest is now on in the first team for batting and bowling honors, the silver cup for batting being probably the most coveted. This was given last year by A. B. Martin and is at present held by Harry Moley. The F. B. Leeds prize for bowling is generally keenly contested for and several are now fighting for first position.

As will be seen William Croft, Jr., has received his transfer from the Zion cricket club and will be found with the Mohairs hereafter and his friends wish him every success.

Tom Southam who played so many years with the Mohair club will again be found with his old team as he has also applied and received his transfer. Southam was captain of the team in one of its championship years.

Hampden Hyde is also a new man on the team, having located in this city. He was last with the Providence club and is considered a good bat.

THE NEW CHURCH

Named Notre Dame De Lourdes

In memory of the destruction of the Second Temple in Jerusalem, by the Roman Emperor Titus, in the year 70, all orthodox members of Hebrew churches are today fasting and praying.

Not a morsel of food will be consumed by the faithful from midnight last night until midnight tonight. Tomorrow fasting will follow in mark of respect for the failure of Titus or any other potentate to effect the Jewish race and its religion.

To the synagogues Hebrews will flock and pray silently. It is the custom to enter, pray for 15 minutes and then return later and pray another 15 minutes. Much other time is usually spent in meditation.

Today is the ninth day of Ab, according to the Hebrew reckoning, and that is the day on which, according to tradition, the ruthless Titus destroyed the house of worship at Jerusalem.

The fast day today is known as Tisha B'ab.

THE NEW CHURCH

Named Notre Dame De Lourdes

The new French church in Middlesex street is to be known as Notre Dame de Lourdes. "Our Lady of Lourdes" and a parish meeting was held recently in the rooms of the Middlesex club. The meeting was presided over by William Parthenais, and Charles E. Branehaud acted as secretary, while Rev. Fr. Dubreuil, O. M. I., who is to be the pastor of the new church, and who has already gained the esteem and confidence of the parishioners, was also present.

TERROR "GANG"

Caused Much Trouble at Salem, N. H.

SALEM, N. H., Aug. 6.—After terrorizing the residents of this section for several days and stripping gardens of all kinds of vegetables which they sold to cottagers, Michael Welch of Manchester, Daniel O'Leary and James Leach of Derry, Philip Fay, Frank Cody, Ernest Smith and Maurice Deane, some of whom claimed Lawrence and others, Kegan as their residents, were arrested here early yesterday by special policeman, assisted by citizens.

They were found occupying a deserted brick factory and after their arrest they were loaded into a hayrack and brought to Salem for arraignment yesterday. Judge Pulver sentenced each of them to 30 days at the Rockingham county farm at Brentwood.

PYTHIAN SISTERS

Float Collapsed and Twenty Were Injured

BOSTON, Aug. 6.—Twenty Pythian sisters were injured, two of them dangerously, when the rear wheel of the float "Truth and Justice" came off on Charles street yesterday, just as they were about to enter the parade.

Confusion reigned on the crowded thoroughfare.

Women rushed hither and thither in an attempt to bring first aid to the injured. Three women became hysterical.

Puffin H was when women shed tears at seeing their float, upon which they had worked for more than a week, rendered useless for the parade.

The injured women were the most prominent members of the Medford, Cambridge, Melrose and the Somerville Wiggins lodges. The float was elaborately decorated to represent "Truth and Justice," and owing to the originality of its design was expected to rank among the first in the parade.

At a rapid pace the float was being driven by four white horses down Charles street when the float tipped backward as a wheel fell upon the ground.

Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Johnson were sitting in the rear of the float. They were pitched to the pavement, striking on their sides. Mrs. Leach and Mrs. Ellis, who impersonated "angels," were able to jump, and landed on their feet.

The other women were hurried against each other.

The Eye and Ear Infirmary, opposite which the accident occurred, opened its doors to the sufferers and provided medical attendance. Mrs. Johnson was bleeding so profusely that the doctor at the institution dared not treat her, and sent her immediately to the Massachusetts General hospital.

Nine women each from Somerville, Medford and Melrose lodges constituted the 27 who were in the float. They were known as the parade committee.

Mrs. Annie E. Manner, one of those quite severely shaken up, was the committee's chairman.

The float had been presented to them by a Somerville Knight of Pythias.

SUES FOR $5000

Oshland Man Takes Objection to Circular

Michael P. Gay of Asahand filed a suit in the superior civil court, East Cambridge, yesterday, against Allen W. Adams, alleging that he published, at a recent town election, a certain printed political circular which refers to the plaintiff as "Jailbird." The suit is for $5000 damages.

The circular was signed "Law and Order." A paragraph reads: "Do not be misled and vote for a ticket conceived and headed into existence by the man who was in the town jail only two years ago for the town hall, so that he might spin around in the giddy maze. . . . the open-mouthed, ever-present face of Pleasant street and the jailbird of Metropolitan avenue."

(Signed) "Law and Order."

RESCUED A DOG

From Drowning in Dutton St. Canal

Early this morning before the mill people went in to work, considerable excitement was caused by the efforts of a crowd to rescue a dog from drowning in the canal on Dutton street.

The canine had been in the water about half an hour swimming up and down the canal from the Carpet slake-way to the Machine shop gate, while men on both sides tried in vain to reach him. The animal seemed to be afraid of his cursers and judging from the manner in which he snapped and twisted in the water, some people thought he was mad. The fact was, however, that the dog was badly exhausted and in danger of drowning.

Finally a young man named Archie Leblanc succeeded in reaching him with a pole and getting him to the edge of the water so that he was landed on the bank. The dog seemed to be a valuable animal of the hound species and the inscription on the collar was "H. Castor Roberts street."

Young Leblanc set out soon after to lead the dog to the address on the collar. The attempt to rescue the animal caused many to suppose that a man had been drowned and that the dog swimming about was but helping in the search.

SUICIDE'S FATE

Man Asked Loan to Save Him From It

CHICAGO, Aug. 6.—The cup of happiness overflowed yesterday for the poor Italian with a family of eight children who advertised for the loan of $500 to save him from a suicide's fate. Instead of death he took a new lease on life. Following a morning newspaper's announcement of two subscribers' offer to loan the man $250, his employer, discovering the identity of the unfortunate agreed to retain him in his employ and arrange for the making good of the shortage on easy payments. The Italian consul will also be asked to institute proceedings to compel a restitution of a usurious interest exacted by the loan sharks.

INCENDIARY FIRE

Caused Loss of $300,000 at Midway, Ky.

MIDWAY, Ky., Aug. 6.—This town half way between Lexington and Frankfort was the scene of a fire that for a time threatened the town with destruction last night. The fire, which is believed to have been of incendiary origin, destroyed five warehouses of the S. J. Greenbaum Distilling company entailing a loss estimated at $300,000. The amount of insurance is not known but it is believed that the loss is amply covered.

The flames caused by the burning of forty-seven thousand barrels of whiskey, which turned a creek nearby into a fierce torrent, could be seen for ten miles. The flames as they coursed down the surface of the creek destroyed the Southern railroad trestle and half a dozen negro cabins.

HIS HEAD CUT

MAN FELL DOWN BANK OF THE RIVER.

Charles Roy suffered severe lacerations about the head as a result of a fall down the embankment of the Merrimack river in the rear of the Textile school yesterday afternoon about 3:30 o'clock. The place where the man fell is filled with sharp edged stones and in falling he struck against these. He was taken to the Lowell hospital where 12 stitches were taken in the wounds.

INJURED HIS KNEE.

The regular monthly meeting of the York club was held last night at the home of Miss Jessie Callahan in Eustis avenue. Considerable routine business was transacted and it was voted to take an excursion to Salisbury and Hampton benches one week from Saturday. At the conclusion of the meeting music and games were enjoyed. Three new members joined the club.

Hot Stove—Cool Kitchen

How do you expect to endure the broiling days of summer if you prepare all the food over a glowing coal fire?

You need a "New Perfection" Oil Stove that will do the cooking without cooking the cook. It concentrates plenty of heat under the pot and diffuses little or none through the room. Therefore, when working with the

the kitchen actually seems as comfortable as you could wish it to be.

This, in itself, is wonderful, but, more than that, the "New Perfection" Oil Stove does perfectly everything that any stove can do. It is an ideal all-round cook-stove. Made in three sizes, and fully warranted. If not with your dealer, write our nearest agency.

The Rayo Lamp

a substantial, strongly made and hand-some lamp. Burns for hours with a strong, mellow light. Just what you need for evening reading or to light the dining-room. If not with your dealer, write our nearest agency.

FAMOUS HORSE

Jay Eye See is Reported Dying

A story with a shade of sadness comes from Racine, Wis., of the decrepitude and approaching death of that stout-hearted little trotter, Jay Eye See, now 30 years old, the first horse to trot a mile to harness in 2:10, which he did at the Narragansett park, Cranston, R. I., Aug. 1, 1884, driven by Edwin Bither.

The horse was bred by Col. Richard West of Lexington, Ky., and was by Dictator, a brother of the renowned Dexter, son of Hambletonian, dam Midnight, by Pilot, Jr., grand-dam Twilight, by Lexington, the great four-mile race horse.

In 1883 Ed Bither trotted the horse as a five-year-old over the Providence track in 2:11-4. The next year the horse was taken to Providence for the express purpose of establishing a world's trotting record. It was a gala day, as the residents of Providence were in attendance by the thousands and trails loads went down from Boston.

The star event was the performance of Jay Eye See, who single and alone trotted in 2:10. It was the first mile ever recorded at that figure.

Anty Drudge Smooths Over a Domestic Difficulty.

Wife—"John, you've just got to get some one to care for that auto. Your clothes are full of grease, dirt, cement and dear knows what all. I've tried every chemical cleanser I know, but I can't get them clean."

Anty Drudge—"And you've missed the only thing that will make them clean. Fels-Naptha will take out every spot. Try it! You'll see!"

Men who drive automobiles are learning that Fels-Naptha is a necessary part of a motoring outfit. It is the only soap that will quickly take oil and grease from their hands and faces in cool or lukewarm water.

Most of the women who wash clothes for men who drive or build automobiles learned long ago that Fels-Naptha will take out grease and grime better than any other soap. And Fels-Naptha does it in cool or lukewarm water without boiling the clothes and without hard-rubbing.

The Fels-Naptha way of washing is just as modern as the automobile. The progressive woman has said goodbye to the slow-coach, washboiler, hard-rubbing way of washing and has got aboard the time-saving, labor-saving, clothes-saving Fels-Naptha way of washing.

If you don't know the Fels-Naptha way of washing, it will take only one trial to convince you. Follow easy directions printed on the red and green wrapper.

Spanish Queen Won the Big Race

KALAMAZOO, Mich., Aug. 6.—Spanish Queen justified the confidence of her friends yesterday, when she won the Burdick House purse of $10,000, the highest offering of the Kalamazoo grand circuit meeting. Her nearest competitor was the mare Alcide, the Geer's stable, and Alcide made the winner equal her record of 2:07 1/4 to win the second heat. The big race was marred by the unexpected unsteadiness of every horse from which any good work was expected and this accounted for the slow time made in three of the four heats that were the break made by Spanish Queen when she was leading the race. But for the break made by Spanish Queen when she was leading the race, there would undoubtedly have been but three heats trotted.

The real race of the day was furnished by three of the five starters in the 2:19 class for trotters and at the end of the race five hard fought, though not fast, heats. Lou McDonald's mare Marveletta was returned the winner. Alcide had an easy time of it in the 2:20 pace, and was not compelled to step within two seconds of her best record to win.

KIRKWOOD WON

State Title His for Fifth Time

WELLINGTON, Aug. 6.—The sixth shoot for the amateur trap shooting championship of Massachusetts was held at the grounds of the Palmettes yesterday afternoon. Horace Kirkwood won the title for the fifth time with a score of 49 out of 50 targets, the nearest opponent being Robert Smith, who broke 45, while the veteran "pro" shooter, O. R. Dickey of Wellington, was third with 41.

The weather conditions were good in the early part of the afternoon, when the match was shot, but after the rain stopped there came up a puff of wind which made the targets zigzag the last half of the afternoon, during which three matches were decided.

These were the Lewis trophy match of 50 targets with added bird handicaps, the trophy being the gift of A. W. Lewis of Fall River; the special 25-target match, also with added handicaps, and the program of 100 targets. The Lewis trophy was won by Robert N. Burnes of Cambridge, who broke 43 out of the 50 targets thrown, which, with his handicap of six birds, gave him first place with a final score won by "Buff" Smith, who made a gross score of 24 out of 25, his added handicap making his total 26. High gun honors for the day's program went out to O. R. Dickey with a total of 86 out of 100. The scores:

THE PAPER TRUST STRIKE.

Before congress adjourned we stated that the paper trust was getting so much stock ahead that it would soon welcome a strike.

The trust two weeks ago ordered a cut of 10 per cent. in wages, and as a result the strike is on.

The cut went into effect Saturday and the 30,000 employees affected went on strike on Monday morning.

Thus all the mills in New York, Maine and other New England states are now idle. The trust is prepared for this shutdown. It has been paying as much as $10,000 a year for the storage of its surplus white print paper in New York alone.

It will be remembered that the publishers of this country appealed to the president and to congress for relief from the extortions of the trust; an investigation was ordered and the most manwaverable proofs were given that the trust was amenable to punishment for its exactions, but the stand-patters were too influential to be overcome.

The republican party on the eve of an election could not afford to interfere with the trusts on which it depends for a re-election, and so the publishers were turned down, congress dropped the matter and adjourned.

There is now an opportunity to show up this iniquity.

The republican national platform is silent on the paper trust as might be expected, but the democratic platform deals squarely with this as with other questions as will be seen from this paragraph from the platform adopted at Denver:

"Existing duties have given to the manufacturers of paper a shelter behind which they have organized combinations to raise the price of pulp and of paper, thus imposing a tax upon the spread of knowledge. We demand the immediate repeal of the tariff on wood pulp, print paper, lumber, timber and logs, and that these articles be placed upon the free list."

In the face of the business depression, the trust is well prepared for a prolonged shut-down, despite the fact that there will be a great demand for paper as a result of the campaign. The price of paper, therefore, may go still higher.

If the trust is not a trust in the meaning of the law why is there not left a sufficient number of paper mills to meet the demand for print paper while this strike is on?

There should be some practical means of reaching the paper trust and having it punished under the anti-trust law without waiting either for an unwilling congress to act or for the law department of the government equally unwilling to proceed against this trust.

The trust, no doubt, will now force a discussion of the comparative cost of manufacturing paper here and in Canada. The cut affects only the hands who receive $2.25, $3 and $3.70 for an eight-hour day. Thus it will be made to appear that the trust is paying wages that are nearly double the scale paid in the Canadian mills. The whole trouble seems to be planned to force promises from the republican party against any material reduction of the tariff as proposed in the democratic platform.

WITHOUT WINGS WE SHALL FLY.

The dirigible airship has arrived. Under the magic hand of Count Zeppelin it gave an exhibition yesterday sufficient to convince the world of the practicability of aerial navigation.

We say all this with full allowance for all Count Zeppelin's mishaps, all the shortcomings of his machine.

The monster dirigible airship may not be perfect, but in all probability it is as perfect as was the locomotive when it left the hands of George Stephenson.

We do not expect that any airship can fly against a hurricane or avoid the dangers of lightning while sailing through clouds surcharged with electricity; but we do believe the conclusion is fully justified that the principle of aerial navigation has been applied with reasonable accuracy in the demonstration of Count Zeppelin. His feat has so far surpassed anything of the kind previously attempted that Count Zeppelin has justly won for himself the title of pioneer of aerial navigation in the present era.

His work has actually surpassed all expectations and will give an impetus to the art of aerial navigation that will result in rapid progress towards perfection.

When we consider the astounding progress made in telegraphy and the use of electricity for motor purposes, we can scarcely doubt that the same ingenuity applied to the development of the aeroplane and the dirigible balloon will accomplish things that are at present considered impossible. Man was not created with wings to fly, but he was endowed with the intelligence to fly without wings, to overcome the pressure of the air and the force of gravity to the extent of navigating the limitless realms of space, rising above the clouds and looking down upon the earth as does the eagle in his stately flights.

In the locomotive, the electric motor and the automobile we seem to have reached the perfection of rapid transit on land, although there will yet be faster trains, possibly to double the present speed; in the majestic steamships and motor boats we have annihilated time and space even on sea, and now it only remains for man to use his ingenuity and his scientific skill in navigating the air to the extent that the dirigible balloon may be employed for transportation purposes just as the steamship is today.

We are soon to have a great automobile race; we are to see wonderful exhibitions of speed, but perhaps in less than a score of years from the present time, we may have races in which the contestants will be the disciples of Count Zeppelin, Henry Farman, Dumont, and other pioneers in an art in which progress must necessarily be slow, but withal is bound to be triumphant in the end.

We are an ingenious people, but not more so than some other peoples. Yet we are confident that some American inventor will be found to astonish the world with greater strides in this difficult art than have yet been attempted.

As yet the present day aeronaut is like the little bird learning to fly; with time he will acquire the power to mount the ethereal blue or thread his way among the currents of air as does the mariner among the currents of the ocean.

SEEN AND HEARD

"Very few people realize how difficult it is to keep a crook out of town," said a member of the detective bureau of the local police department to the writer recently in discussing the apparently unnoted manner in which the light-fingered gentry worked in Boston earlier in the week. "The police are by no means the wisest individuals on the face of this mundane sphere," said the officer, "and in dealing with crooks, particularly pickpockets they are stacked up against the slickest branch of the criminal gentry. In recent years Lowell has been fortunate in trapping pickpockets before they have been able to do any great damage, and I have not the slightest doubt but that the local department will be fully able to cope with these individuals should there be an influx of them on the occasion of the firemen's muster and the automobile race."

When skies are overcast with dark clouds of gloom
And I pine for a sight of the blue;
When worry slips in like a thief to my room,
It is then that my heart turns to you,
It is then that my heart turns to you,
For you kiss all my troubles away;
And grief and despair float away on the air,
And I'm glad at the close of day.

When friends that I loved turn away
From me cold,
The friends that I thought would prove true;
And I find the rings false which I thought to be gold.
It is then that my heart turns to you,
It is then that my heart turns to you,
For you love all my troubles away;
Be my sun high or low, only love do you show,
And I'm glad at the close of the day.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

CORNER ON CEMETERY LAND.

Ohio State Journal: The Boston finance commission has fished out a nice little case of graft that occurred in the land office business. Two men, a councilman and a cemetery trustee, bought a piece of land for nine hundred dollars. Afterward that land was badly needed for cemetery purposes, and on that account it increased so rapidly in value that it was sold to the city for eleven thousand dollars, and the two men divided the proceeds. But what adds to the perversity is that those two men contend that they did nothing wrong. Like many men of their calibre, they think there is nothing wrong so long as they cannot be landed in the penitentiary for it. But here was a conspiracy to cheat the city and it worked out, and the city lost ten thousand dollars by it. They ought to go to the penitentiary for it.

These land selling schemes are great for gathering graft. There is hardly ever a piece of land sold to the public that the price is not exorbitant. Sometimes this exorbitance swells into graft. It takes a mighty smart man to buy land for the people, and such a one is not always employed.

This matter should receive attention. The public should become a purchaser of land by invisible approaches, and then, when the time comes for binding the bargain, it should have some other way laid open. A secret history of the purchases of land for public purposes—how the prices were arranged and all that—would make mighty interesting reading.

AUTOMOBILE LEGISLATION.
Providence Tribune: A prominent member of the American Automobile Association contends that the condition of the motor vehicle laws throughout the United States is ridiculous because of their inconsistent and contradictory provisions and intolerable because no two states have been able to agree upon a reasonable and sane law which will regulate the automobile as it should be regulated and at the same time conserve the rights of pedestrians and users of horse-drawn vehicles. According to this authority, the most striking illustration of the objectionable state enactments is to be found in the case of course, that must be apparent to all, of course, that without fair laws good roads are of no use to the automobile. It must be admitted, however, that the popularity of the present type of machine which would seem to have no other reason for being than the ability to attain high speed has emphasized the need for more official measures for controlling the movements of automobiles on the highways.

CASE OF THE CADETS.
Providence Tribune: Whether it is the wicked law who got the president into such a vexatious tangle, or whether it was his own reckless and bungling intervention in a matter that he had better have left alone, it is in the present confusion impossible to say. Neither is it permissible to decide now whether the case or in Secretary Wright's contradictory statement. All further action must wait a settlement of the dispute between the two. The saddest feature of the case is the readiness of the people everywhere to believe the worst of their president without questioning that discloses a very sorry popular opinion of the man, for which he himself, of course, is to blame.

Delcour S. Potter, for years prominent as a lawyer in northern New York, died Tuesday at his home in Glens Falls, N. Y. He was a friend of Senator Platt and had served as a member of assembly and as a judge in Saratoga county. He was a United States commissioner at the time of his death. In the term of State Treasurer Clovin he was capitol paymaster. For many years he represented the state comptroller's office in northern New York, having charge of the collated inheritance tax cases. With David B. Hill and other prominent New York politicians Judge Potter was a member of the Forty-fourth Club, the membership including men born in the year 1841. Annually the club went for a banquet to Albany or New York city. Judge Potter leaves a son, Malcolm S. Potter, and a daughter, Miss Jessie Potter.

Otto G. Silber, eminent commander of Jersey Commandery, Knights Templar, of East Orange and prominent in Masonic and other fraternal circles, died in the Orange Memorial hospital, Orange, N. J. He was 51 years of age and was survived by his wife and two children. His death was due to a peculiar accident. Two weeks ago he was in his stable and gave his horse a drink. The animal turned its head and struck Mr. Silber in the forehead. He thought nothing of it as the blow was a slight one, but last week he began to feel acute pains and consulted a physician. He was found last time to have a fracture of the skull, and on Sunday an operation was performed, which revealed a cerebral hemorrhage. Mr. Silber was a master mason of Orange and was widely known through his activity in Masonic organizations.

Frank Harris Hitchcock, who will manage Taft's campaign for the presidency, and who has been elected chairman of the republican national committee, is a son of a doing thing in the world. Mr. Hitchcock handled Taft's campaign for the nomination, and he succeeded in pleasing Judge Taft and President Roosevelt to the utmost extent. He was born at Amherst, O., October 5, 1857, and was sent to Boston to be educated. He graduated from Harvard University in 1881, and later went to the Columbia University Law School. He finally became first postmaster general. He is a prime favorite of Mr. Roosevelt, who really put him in charge of Taft's nomination campaign, and has now placed him at the head of the republican national committee.

RAILS ON BRIDGE

They Were Melted by Electricity

SACO, Me., Aug. 6.—The lives of the passengers on a Boston-bound train were imperiled early yesterday when the railroad bridge over the highway at Goose Fare brook, on the Portland road, became heavily charged with electricity and assumed the appearance of being on fire. The rails became red hot, and the structure sent forth electrical flashes that were seen for a long distance. These flashes were all that saved the train from destruction, as they warned the engineer of danger ahead, after the rails had become so heated that a portion of them had melted away. The last approaching train was brought to a standstill and an investigation showed the dangerous situation.

The trouble was caused by a trolley wire on the Saco division of the Portland street railroad. Where the electric road crosses under the bridge the trolley wire was fastened to wooden poles, which way not yet ascertained. The wire came in contact with a long bolt which extends down from the bridge to hold up the trolley.

This formed a good connection with the storage batteries at Dunstan corner which furnish power for the trolley road. The bridge rests on granite abutments at each end, which offered such strong resistance that the steel structure was intensely charged with electricity. The rails were soon red hot and a part of one for a short distance was melted. Spikes, other metal work and two ties were burned out. Word was sent to the power station of the Portland & Saco electric road, and in turn from there to Dunstan, for the current to be turned off.

After the bridge had cooled off, the passenger train was run slowly over the bridge, and a brakeman left there to warn all other trains. The train was delayed about an hour on account of the accident. The bridge was repaired yesterday and new rails installed.

It is considered fortunate that the accident happened late at night, as daylight might have prevented the electric flashes from being noticed by the engineer. The flashes were so brilliant that they are reported to have been seen for miles in some directions.

SHOOT SISTER

Baby Got Revolver From Mantel

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—Edna Elliott, seven years of age, of Woodside, L. I., was shot and probably mortally hurt last night by her brother James, two and one-half years old. The children were playing just before bedtime, when the little boy climbed upon a chair and obtained a revolver from the mantel-piece. In some way he exploded one of the cartridges and the bullet struck his sister over the left eye.

A week ago the girl herself got hold of the revolver and shot herself in the right leg.

OLYMPIC RUNNER

Won a Bride on Board Ship

BOSTON, Aug. 6.—The enthusiasm displayed by A. Roy Welton, the diminutive Lawrence distance runner, as the steamship Ivernia was made fast in the Cunard docks, yesterday afternoon, was more pronounced than on July 31, when he finished fourth in the Marathon run at London. It was upon reaching the landing, when his relatives came forth to greet and to congratulate him that the happy beamed with delight, not so much at seeing them, but at the opportunity of introducing his future wife, Miss Louise Freeman, a pretty Texan girl of 19 years, who had become enamored of his running as he sped around the track inside the London stadium. The race the two were made acquainted and saw a good deal of each other. When Miss Freeman announced that she was to return to America on the Ivernia, Welton promptly decided to make the homeward trip on the same steamer.

From the time that the ship left her moorings in Liverpool the two were constantly together, and when but one day out announced their engagement. This secret was made known to Miss Hazel Hunting, who was a member of Miss Freeman's party, which had journeyed over the European continent and then had stopped in London on its return home, and also to W. H. Fernald of Boston. Mr. Fernald was captain of the Stone school track team last year, and went to London to witness the Olympic games. With Miss Hunting, who also lives in this city, they will be members of the bridal party when the wedding takes place, which is expected in the near future.

Miss Freeman is pretty and cheerful. Both Miss Hunting and Mr. Fernald, who were the only people whom Mr. Welton and Miss Freeman look into their confidence, found great delight in the fact that the couple ever since they were made acquainted with the fact. Coming up the harbor young Welton absolutely refused to stay away from his fiancée long enough to tell what he thought of the experiences of the American athletes in London. "America is the land for me, and I cannot speak very well for England," was all he had to say. Welton is 22 years of age and lives in Lawrence. He is a runner of national reputation, being junior five-mile champion of the country, having won that title at Jamestown, Va., last September.

OFFICERS CHOSEN

By the Catholic Young Men's Lyceum

The new board of directors which will have charge of the affairs of the Lyceum was installed last evening and despite the fact that the complexion of the board was changed somewhat there were no contests for the different offices.

The board as it is now constituted is as follows: Andrew Smith, Thomas Bassett, Thomas Fitzgerald, Peter J. Connan, John J. Murphy, Jos. O'Brien, John Carroll, Timothy Roban, Jas. Bourke, Patrick Harrington, Michael O'Neill, John H. Murphy, John McDermott, Wm. Christie and James Callahan.

The election of officers resulted in the unanimous choice of Thomas J. Fitzgerald as president, Patrick Harrington as vice president, Peter Connan as recording secretary, John J. Murphy as financial secretary, and Rev. John J. McHugh as spiritual director and treasurer.

A report from the treasurer for the last six months was received and the good standing met with the approval of the new members.

Prof. Frank Davy as soon as the weather will permit will start a class in the gymnasium and fine results are expected. Mr. Davy is an athlete of great repute and has some very interesting stories of his experiences as a wrestler and all round athlete. His report was submitted from the committee in charge of the testimonial to Mr. Frank Curran who was injured some time ago and substantial check was forwarded to him.

The new board will meet Friday evening this week but during the months of August and September will meet Sunday mornings at 10 o'clock.

JOHN R. THAYER

Is Not a Candidate for Governor

WORCESTER, Aug. 6.—"I am not a candidate for the democratic nomination for governor, and do not believe that conditions will arise that will induce me to be a candidate," said ex-Congressman John R. Thayer last night.

"There was never a time," said Mr. Thayer, "when I failed to respond to the call of party duty. It is true that it was possible that I might have obtained the democratic gubernatorial nomination while I was a member of congress, but I felt that it was my duty to continue to serve my constituents in congress."

"I should like to see the party once more united, and if so I am confident that Massachusetts will be a democratic state. But if democrats persist in antagonizing the principles of the party, it will be a long time before the republicans will be a minority party."

DEAD HORSES

Found at Billerica Give Rise to Rumors

The finding of the badly mutilated bodies of two horses in a field near Sprague's bridge in Billerica has caused all kinds of rumors to be circulated in the quiet little town. One rumor is to the effect that the horses were stolen, taken to the field, killed, the hide removed and the meat sold for beef. Other people, however, are of the opinion that the two animals found were the property of some traveling band who killed the horses, saved the hides and left the carcasses behind.

Last Friday night the body of the first horse was found and the board of health was notified. Dr. O'Donnell, a member of the board, notified the Lowell Rendering company and the carcass was removed. Last Monday night the body of another animal was found and this also was removed.

YELLOW FEVER

One Case Reported on Gulf Coast

CITY OF MEXICO, Aug. 6.—The Mexican health authorities last night expressed surprise at the action of the Texas authorities yesterday in quarantining against the republic for yellow fever. The news was conveyed to them by the Associated Press and they declared that they had received no official notice of the action from the Texas health board and could not believe that such a drastic course had been adopted as but one case of yellow fever had been officially reported on the gulf coast and this had been immediately isolated.

CHILDREN TREATED

DOWN TOWN LITTLE ONES HAVE GOOD TIME.

Mrs. M. L. Traversy and Mrs. F. A. Brookings gave a treat to a party of about 25 children of French, Paige and John streets yesterday. Owing to the inclement weather, the happy event took place in a vacant flat in the Silk building. Ice cream, cake, fruit and lemonade were served, and the children gave an impromptu entertainment with music and dancing. The treat was especially intended to be held at Lakeview but the rain interfered.

"It is astonishing," remarked a well known authority on Diseases of the skin, "how such a large number of people, especially ladies, are by attractive people written advertisements, induced to purchase some one of the many so-called Beauty Creams now on the market, not knowing of course that they mostly contain oily or greasy substances that clog the pores of the skin and are for that reason the very worst thing that they could possibly use. My treatment of Pimples, Blackheads, Blisters and all eruptions of the skin, are as follows and are invariably proved very successful. Wash the face carefully every night before retiring with warm water and a little oatmeal tied up in a small cloth bag, then after drying well, use the following inexpensive and perfectly harmless prescription which can be filled at any Drug Store: Clearskin or either 1 or 2 Alcohol 7 cc. Use this mixture on the face as often as possible during the day, but use night and morning at least ten minutes, then the powdery film may be wiped off. Do not wash the face for some little time after using. By following this simple treatment you will soon have a clear and brilliant complexion."

Middle West Baseball Teams Stronger Than Eastern Rivals

Best Way to Better Weak Team Is to Buy Able Players--The Home Run Record and Longest Hit Ever Made

GILBERT OF YALE IN POLE VAULT.

THE big league baseball scrap is just now as hot as the hottest red-hot stove that ever was described in song or story. And the net result of both National and American pennant races has been to show conclusively that the "offense east" is inferior to the middle west in playing the game. Teams of both leagues are divided into "eastern" and "western" sections, but it is of course evident that the term "western" in this connection has a limited and technical meaning, one not extending outside of baseball use, for the Pittsburg team is called a "western" one, and so is Washington, yet people in cities away from the Atlantic coast would not in general usage call Pittsburg and Washington western cities.

The western, or, better, middle west, teams are certain to finish the season in far better position, as a whole, than the eastern teams. The New York Nationals are the only eastern team that have a chance for championship honors, and the rank of almost the entire Atlantic seaboard are rooting for the Giants to pull the throttle wide open and crowd the Pittsburg and the Chicago Cubs off the track.

A glance at the list of teams in each big league that have had the best and most consistent records this year well illustrates that the eastern teams are in a bad way. In the National league the most frequent winners have been Pittsburg, Chicago, New York and Cincinnati. Philadelphia made a fair start, but failed to keep up the good work. In the American league Detroit, St. Louis, Chicago and Cleveland have proved most imposing. The Philadelphia team, ranking on a form basis, in the pennant class, mysteriously remained low in the contest.

Second Division Society Notes. The Philadelphia teams in both leagues, in fact, should have remained higher and not deviated so much time to the second division. The two Boston teams have little chance of finishing outside the second division, while New York and Washington in the American league will undoubtedly settle the "champion championship" between them. Brooklyn and St. Louis are in a like hopeless condition in the National. This it is seen that of the so-called western teams St. Louis in the National and Washington in the American league are the only ones that at this writing are definitely doomed to finish the year in the second division.

Truly the eastern division cannot compare with its middle west rivals, as a whole, and if New York fails to win the National pennant the Atlantic coast fans will be inconsolable. The fact that the east has proved superior to the west in football, lawn tennis, swimming and various other sports will afford the chronic fan but little comfort. To him baseball is the king pin among sports.

The Only Remedy.

The only remedy for the eastern teams in attempting to strengthen themselves is to spend money. That is the only remedy, and it is the only thing they will not take it. Baseball history repeats itself. Some baseball magnates would much rather have a cheap losing team than an expensive winner.

St. Paul's Great Indian Catcher. Although President Lennan of St. Paul has failed in his efforts to give his city a winning team this year, he has succeeded in unearthing the biggest sensation of the year in the American association. Big Jack Myers, the Indian catcher, is without question the greatest find in minor league baseball this season. His playing has attracted the attention of the big league managers, and several of them are after him, including Connie Mack of Philadelphia, who, it is said, is willing to pay almost any price for the catchster. Mr. Lennan, however, will not let him go and will do everything in his power to retain him for another season.

A "Home Run" Season.

A larger number of home runs than usual have been made in various leagues this year.

The Harrisburg and Reading teams, however, in the Tri-state league recently posted up a record for the biggest number of home runs in a professional game. Eight homers were registered in the contest, Harrisburg getting five and Reading three.

Was This the Record Hit?

While there is no official record of the longest hit made in a professional game of baseball, Jack Cronin, the Providence pitcher, claims the distinction of accomplishing this feat, and his contention is backed up by Manager Stallings of the Indians, who saw him do the trick. Cronin made his mighty swing in the city of Minneapolis in 1906, when he was a member of the Detroit (American league) team, which was at that time managed by Stallings.

According to Stallings, the sphere traveled a distance of between 700 and 800 feet before it fell to the ground, and Cronin had time to walk around the bases two or three times before the ball was recovered. Cronin made the homer off Red Ehrst, who was pitching for Minneapolis.

HARRY GRANT.

A Drama Likely to Repeat Its London Success In America

(From Our New York Dramatic Correspondent.)

IT was William Somerset Maugham's "Lady Frederick" which finally broke down the barrier interposed between him and the London managers. It was this admirable comedy of intrigue and manners that provided a starter for the amazing popularity which this new playwright has wrested suddenly from British playgoers. The career of this work in London during the past ten months has proved to be an epoch maker in the history of modern dramatic exploitation. Its initial performance was given in a dingy and out of the way little theater early last season, but it triumphed at once and signally. Its run was continued successively at the Garrick and Criterion, and now, at its fourth stopping place, the New theater, it is still the best patronized play in London. It is now presented Miss Ethel Barrymore in the title role of the delightful comedy next autumn.

The story of "Lady Frederick" is absorbing, and its humor is delicious. Neither the character of the heroine nor certain of the circumstances which attend her escapades are easily creditable, but the gloss of expert workmanship thrown liberally over it all atones for everything. All the characters are boldly and most effectively done, and the whole work sparkles with epigram and bristles with witty conceits. Lady Frederick, it must be confessed, narrowly escapes being an adventuress. She is a woman of title who when a mere girl was married to a worthless fellow named Frederick Derolles. When she had managed to endure her bondage for ten years the death of her dissolute husband freed her, and not long afterward she lost her only child. Now she came to the sudden determination to make up for lost time and to see a little of the world. The opening of the play finds her at Monte Carlo, a leader in the fashionable fast set. Bankruptcy is imminent. She confesses that she has "squandered money as other women take morphine," whatever that may mean. She owes $175,000, and her creditors are becoming troublesome. In addition to all this, her brother, Sir Gerald O'Mara, is in the hands of a money shark.

Lady Frederick is not crushed by the unfavorable outlook. She is equipped with a quick wit and a charming Irish brogue, and she sets about without delay to clear away the impending darkness. She has many suitors, the most persistent of whom is Lord Mereston, a mere strippling, with whose uncle, Parolles Fouldes, she once came near having an intrigue. Fouldes is in Monte Carlo, summoned hastily by his sister to rescue young Mereston from his infatuation. The duel between Lady Frederick and her old admirer is one of wits and is exceedingly interesting, both holding trump cards. Lady Frederick finds that she may escape from her debts in either of two ways—she may accept $200,000 from Fouldes to relinquish his nephew or she may marry Captain Montgomery, the man who holds her paper.

She decides that she will do neither. She resolves to continue her game with Fouldes and the Merestons. She has documents which show that the deceased Lord Mereston, reputed to be a model of virtue, was once involved in a scandal. This is her trump card in the game. But Lady Mereston also has a trump card, a letter in Lady Frederick's own pretty handwriting which refers to a questionable escapade in the charming little woman's own career. At the showdown, Lady Mereston, Lady Frederick and Fouldes being together, the latter makes her charge and produces the incriminating letter. To her utter dismay, her brother refuses to accept the evidence. He declares that a woman so clever as Lady Frederick could not have been so foolish. This gallantry on the part of her former admirer touches Lady Frederick, and she insists on being equally generous. She has in her hands the titillating letters which will make the deceased Lord Mereston's past detestable, but instead of yielding them she tosses them into the bright soft coal fire which is burning in the grate, and they are consumed. Lady Mereston and Fouldes are overcome by her heroic magnanimity and do not hesitate to let it be known.

That very afternoon young Mereston calls and makes a formal proposal, presumably with his mother's permission. But Lady Frederick has started in the right road, and she resolves to proceed further. She puts off her in-fortunate suitor, asks him to call another day when she feels less disturbed. When he returns for his answer she finds the lady of his dreams engaged in making her morning toilet. Then by every means at her command she proceeds to disillusionize the lovesick boy. She compels him to be a horrified spectator while she puts on her beautiful complexion and pencils artistic shadows beneath her eyes. The hair he so much admires becomes a hateful veil of the coiffeure. The fellow kid retreats, thanking his stars that he has escaped.

Parolles Fouldes is not so particular. Lady Frederick's conduct in the matter of the letters has rekindled the old flame, and later in the day he drops in and takes up the wailing as it was left by his unsophisticated nephew. It is as his wife that Lady Frederick finds a welcome escape from all her troubles.

"Jack Straw" to the Empire.

John Drew is to be the American exponent of the delightful character of Jack Straw in Maugham's comedy of that name. The story is of a family of parvenus punished for snobbery. Four years previous to the opening of the play young Sebastian, one of the numerous archdukes of Pomerania, had become infatuated with a dancer who was a sure enough high kicker and had been expelled from the country. Sebastian had followed her, but when he found that she was too plentifully supplied with husbands he went roaming under the name of Jack Straw.

When he makes his appearance in the play he is acting as a waiter in a big London hotel. There he is recognized by Ambrose Holland, the escort of Lady Wanley, as a member of a strolling company of players with which both had once toured. Ambrose keeps mum, and Jack is an admirable waiter. At the next table sit the Parker-Jenningses, vulgar new rich who have come suddenly into enormous wealth. The son is as offensive as the father and mother, but the daughter, Ethel, is a dream of loveliness. Mrs. Parker-Jennings insults Lady Wanley, and that estimable woman instantly hits on a scheme of revenge. She asks Ambrose Holland to introduce Jack Straw to her enemies as a great foreign notability. Jack Straw, who has fallen in love with Ethel at first sight, agrees. His only condition is that he be introduced as Prince Sebastian of Pomerania. He retires and returns later without the false beard he has been wearing as a waiter. The end of the act finds the parvenus in full possession of their social acquisition.

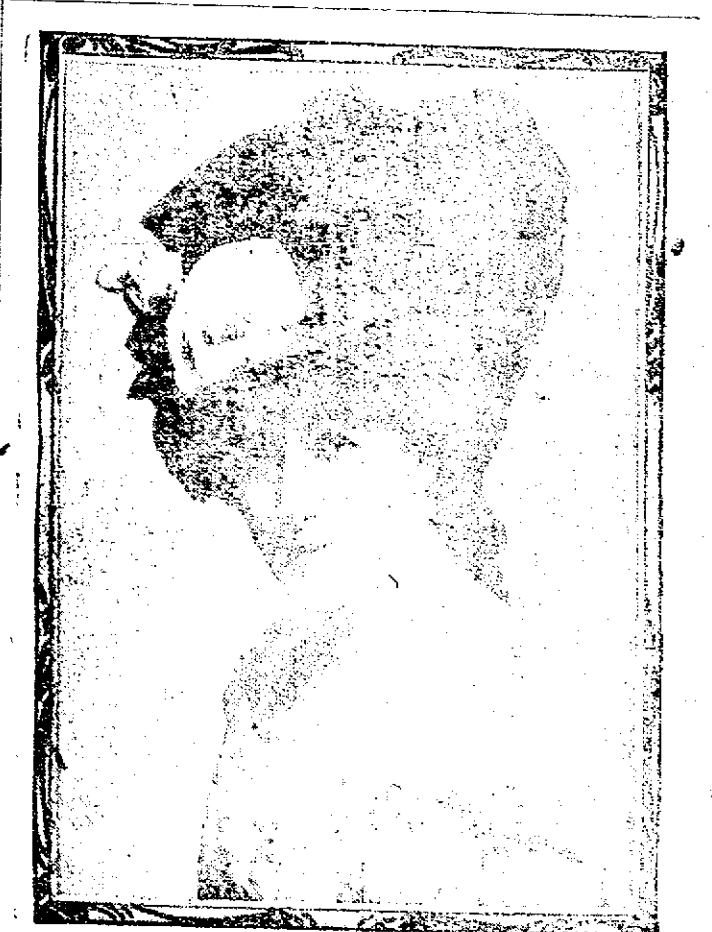

The next two acts take place at the country seat of the Parker-Jenningses. A grand social function is to come off. Everybody is invited, including the Pomeranian ambassador. It is to be the Parker-Jenningses' hour of triumph, and it is evident that the prince is deeply in love. Lady Wanley thinks her joke has gone far enough and asks Jack Straw to disappear. He declines. She threatens to expose him. Jack is indifferent. The scene is made while the guests are arriving. Mrs. Parker-Jennings is furious, but she does not call the police on account of her fear of ridicule. Jack remains as a guest. Finally the Pomeranian ambassador is called in to expose the fraud. Jack and the representative of the court of Pomerania fall into each other's arms. They have been friends from childhood. Jack gets Ethel and goes home to live with the king, his grandfather.

NEW RACES FOR THE FUTURE.

In view of the many expressions favorable to races for four-year-olds it would appear to be the part of wisdom for some of the racing associations to take the matter up and consider well the chance of making such a race a success. It is a good time now to do this, as the question can be thoroughly canvassed by the associations before the time for announcing such a race. Several correspondents have written favorably of such a race provided the conditions were such that the great number of horses proved to be good in their three-year-old form may be drawn upon for support. To that end, the time limit should be so fixed as to

WORLD'S CHAMPIONS

American Athletes Arrived in New York Today

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—The steamship Adriatic brought here today quite a contingent of the victorious squad of athletes who won the world's championship for America at the Olympiad in London. Prominent among them were Ray Ewry of the N. Y. A. C., G. S. Dale of Yale, T. S. Moffitt of the University of Chicago, Daniel Adams of the N. Y. A. C. and Platt, the swimmer.

The athletes said that so far as social entertainment was concerned they had no complaint to make against their English hosts. They spoke with especial praise of Sir Thomas Lipton and Sir Arthur Doyle. They said, however, that in the decisions in the games and in rulings on regulations the English officials had given the Americans decidedly the worst of the bargain in many instances.

"A constant attempt on their part to 'pull us,' said Ewry, 'was evident. The pulling of the Italian over the line in the Marathon race was an outrageous piece of work.'"

BAR ASSOCIATION

Listened to An Address by Judge Taft

HOT SPRINGS, Va., Aug. 5.—W. H. Taft addressed the Virginia Bar association, giving in detail his views on the delay in the administration of the law and suggestions for reform.

Mr. Taft's address concluded the annual meeting of the association.

Wyndham R. Meredith in introducing Mr. Taft said:

"Of the speaker whose presence makes this meeting of our association a national occasion in all the numerous public duties which he has had to perform whether as a law officer or as the occupant of the bench, state or federal, whether performing the arduous duties of secretary of war, as governor of the Philippines, or as administrator of Cuba, I can say that he has touched nothing which he has not strengthened and performed. I voice the sentiment of each member of this association and perhaps of the man himself when I say that he is one who to party gave up what was meant for the bench."

TAFT'S SPEECH

Judge Taft presented his subject by stating that the end sought in the administration of justice was to promote tranquility and contentment among the people. It had, he said, long been established that the supreme court of the United States was the ultimate arbiter of the great political and legal issues, deciding upon the limitations of both the legislative and executive branches of government, which had carried the usefulness of the courts beyond anything attempted in other countries. Notwithstanding this desirable situation, Mr. Taft expressed a doubt that our present administration of justice insured general popular satisfaction with its results.

"There are," he said, "abundant evidences that the prosecution of criminals have not been certain and thorough to the point of preventing popular protest. The existence of lynching in all parts of the country is directly traceable to this lack of uniformity and thoroughness in the enforcement of our criminal laws."

"The present is a time when all our institutions are being subjected to close scrutiny, with a view to the determination whether we have not now tried the institutions upon which modern society rests to the point of proving that some of them should be judiciously changed. The chief attack is on the institution of private property and is based upon the inequalities in the distribution of wealth and of human happiness."

"I believe that the institution of private property next to that of personal liberty, has had most to do with the uplifting and physical and moral improvement of the whole of our race, but that is not inconsistent with the rights of private property to impose limitations upon its uses for unlawful purposes, and that this is the remedy for reform rather than the abolition of the institution itself. But this scrutiny of our institutions, this increasing disposition to try experiments, to see whether there is not some method by which human happiness may be more equally distributed than it is, ought to make those of us who really believe in our institutions anxious to remove real and just grounds for criticism in our present system. I venture to think that one evil which has not attracted the attention of the community at large, but which is likely to grow in importance as the inequality between the poor and the rich in our civilization is studied, is the delay in the administration of justice between individuals, or two wealthy individuals, litigants, and where the subject matter of the litigation reaches to tens and hundreds of thousands of dollars, our present system, while not perfect, is not so far from proper results as to call for anxiety. The judges of the country, both state and national, are averaged good men. Venality in our judges is very rare.

"The inequality that exists in our present administration of justice and that sooner or later is certain to rise and trouble us, and to call for popular condemnation and reform, is in the unequal burden which the delays and expense of litigation under our system imposes on the poor litigant."

THE REMEDY

One remedy, Mr. Taft said, must be reform in our judicial procedure which is now too cumbersome. Another would be more expeditious on the part of the judges in rendering their opinions. Delay, he said, always worked to the detriment of the poor and the benefit of the wealthy litigant. As to appeals, Mr. Taft believes that "court of first instance" and the intermediate appellate court should be for the purpose of finally disposing of a just and prompt way of contentions between litigants. The appellate jurisdiction of the court of last resort should be limited to those cases which are typical and which give to it in its judgment an opportunity to cover the whole field of the law.

"I believe that a great reform might be effected, certainly in the federal courts, and I think too in the state courts, by a mandatory reduction of the court costs and fees. The salaries of the court officers should be fixed and should be paid out of the treasury of the country, state or national government, as the case may be, and fees should be reduced to as low a figure as possible.

"I think another step in the direction of the dispatch of litigation would be the requirement of higher qualifications for those judges who sit in the cases involving a small pecuniary amount.

"Another method by which their frustration at inequalities in our administration of justice may be reduced is by the introduction of a system for settling of damage suits brought by employees against public service corporations through official arbitration and without resort to jury trials. Such a system is working in England, as I am informed, and has successfully inaugurated in Massachusetts.

"No one can have sat upon the federal bench as I did for eight or nine years and not realize how defective the administration of justice in these cases must have seemed to the defeated plaintiff, whether he was the less or amless employee himself, or his personal representative."

As to the jury system, Mr. Taft said: "We cannot, of course, dispense with the jury system. It is that which makes the people a part of the administration of justice, but every means by which in civil cases litigants may be induced voluntarily to avoid the expense, delay, and burden of jury trials, ought to be encouraged because in this way the general administration of justice can be greatly facilitated and the expense incident to delay in litigation can be greatly reduced."

Mr. Taft closed with a tribute to the legal profession and cautioned that conservatism ought not to be allowed to prevent reforms which are in the interest of equalizing the administration of justice as far as possible between the poor and the rich.

14 YEARS' SEARCH

Mother Finally Traces Baby to Foundling Asylum

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—A mother's fourteen year search for her child culminated yesterday in a proceeding in the county court house before Justice Greenbaum, who decided that the mother is entitled to every possible opportunity to learn what has become of her offspring. Back in 1894, as the records in the proceeding show, Annie Okstein gave birth to a boy, whose father was Samuel Okstein. The child was named Joseph. Three weeks after his birth Mrs. Okstein's husband deserted her, taking his baby with him. Since then she has married again, her present husband being one Klugman, said to be a prosperous merchant. During all the intervening years Mrs. Klugman says she has conducted with such diligence as her means afforded a constant search for her son. It was only after she had married Klugman and was able to use his money that she could prosecute the search in a systematic way. She employed detectives and lawyers, had the records of various institutions searched, and finally learned that Okstein whom she met in Brooklyn accidentally some weeks ago, had put the infant son in the New York Foundling hospital, at Sixty-eighth street and Lexington avenue. Further inquiry revealed, as her lawyer, W. E. J. Collins of 135 Montague street, Brooklyn stated yesterday, that the child had been indentured in September, 1897, when but three and a half years old, to one "J. Diandin." Nothing further could be learned from the hospital authorities, so Mrs. Klugman's lawyer sued out a writ of habeas corpus requiring Sister Therese Vincent as head of the Foundling hospital, to produce in court the person Joseph Okstein, who should now be a boy of 14.

Bayard L. Peck, counsel for the Foundling hospital, in his return to the writ, says in behalf of Sister Therese that the records relating to the disposition of the boy have been lost or mislaid and that it is impossible for the hospital authorities to give any further or more definite information concerning the child.

Justice Greenbaum directs that testimony be taken before a referee, so that whatever information is available may be obtained and made a matter of record. He says that while it is true that the statutes confer upon the Foundling hospital the power to indenture foundlings "at a proper age" for a period not exceeding the age of eighteen for girls and twenty-one for boys, yet it seems rather extraordinary that a child of three and a half years should have been regarded as of "a proper age" for indenture. He adds: "Sufficient has been indicated to show the desirability of requiring the respective parties to submit further proofs. The two important matters are, first, the good faith of the relator (Mrs. Klugman), which would involve an examination as to her knowledge of the disposition originally made of the child, what efforts she has made to ascertain its whereabouts in life as bearing upon the question of her ability to care for her child; second the respondent should show under what conditions it gave up the custody of the child, so that the court may determine the legality of its acts and whether or not it has any legal control over the child, though the child may be without the state."

MANY MEMBERS

AT OUTING OF SOCIETE DES ARTISANS.

THEATRE VOYONS

The Theatre Voyons began the showing of the Vitagraph moving pictures of the Tercentenary celebration in Quebec today, and the pictures are easily the best ever shown of any like event in this country. The pictures are remarkably clear and distinct and cover many of the interesting portions of the celebration. The first picture shows the American, English, German and French warships in the harbor firing salutes on the arrival of the prince of Wales and his party. The next, the landing of the prince and his party. Next, the reception given by Sir Wilfrid Laurier, and in which many well known men and women are recognizable. Next is shown the ceremonies in connection with the decoration of the monument of Champlain by the prince, and in this portion of the picture Vice President Fairbanks is seen several times with his staff of American officers. The grand military review on the plains of Abraham is also shown and the water carnival, depicting the arrival of Champlain in Quebec is well illustrated. All through the picture many notables are easily recognized and as a piece of motion photography it excels any American film yet shown. In addition to the celebration pictures, two fine comedies are shown and in response to many requests "The Face on the Barroom Floor" is retained.

Report That Atty. General Bonaparte Will Resign

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—Rumor of the resignation of Attorney-General Bonaparte, to take effect after the November election, is revived in Washington. While this is being discussed with animation, additional interest is added by the announcement that Arthur W. Cooley of New York, Assistant Attorney-General, who has been in close touch with Mr. Bonaparte, has resigned. The announcement was made today and it was asserted that Mr. Cooley's resignation went into effect immediately. It was not stated when Mr. Cooley's resignation was handed in, nor when his retirement was first contemplated. His health is given as the cause of his withdrawal from the department of justice. It is known that he has not been in the best of health for some time, and it is said for him that he decided that a long rest was necessary to his recuperation. He is now in Washington, but will leave shortly for an indefinite stay in the west.

Mr. Cooley was appointed to the government service about five years ago when President Roosevelt, who is his personal friend, made him one of the Civil Service commissioners. He served in that position until 1906, and he was then appointed an assistant attorney-general. Since coming to Washington, Mr. Cooley has spent much time at the White House in a social way and is a member of the president's "tennis cabinet."

Knowing ones are saying that Wade H. Ellis of Ohio will be named by the president to succeed Attorney-General Bonaparte. Mr. Ellis is the man who drew first draft of the Chicago platform. Some weeks ago the position of assistant to the attorney-general, made vacant by the promotion of Milton D. Murphy to a federal judgeship, was offered Mr. Ellis. Had he accepted he would have become the first hustler in chief of the administration.

About an hour later Spadaro was found lying on the cellar floor insensible and bleeding from wounds in the head. He was removed to the relief hospital for treatment. His employees stated afterward that Spadaro usually carried a considerable sum of money in his pockets and that it was missing when he was brought from the cellar. The police estimated the loss at $2060 as Spadaro was unable to give any account of the affair.

43 MUSTER ENTRIES

Vets Will Flock to the Big Muster in This City

Sec. Clay Confident That Over 60 Machines Will be Here — Butlers Try Out New Machine Tonight — Torrents Will Entertain Red Jackets of Cambridge

The famous Red Jackets of Cambridge have entered the lists for the muster, August 10, and while in Lowell will be the special guests of their old time rivals, the Torrents, of this city. Capt. Ruel F. Britton.

The muster committee met last evening and discussed plans. Everything is going along smoothly and all that is needed to make the muster a complete success is good weather.

Secretary Clay announced the entry of the following additional machines: Hingham Vets of Hingham; Concord Vets of Concord, N. H.; Tarrant of Dorchester; Plague of Somerville; E. H. Whiting of Holyoke; Red Jackets of Cambridge and Neptune of Newburyport. This totals the number entered up to date at 43 and it is expected that more than 60 will have filed out entry blanks before the night of closing which will be Aug. 13.

The muster headquarters will be located at the Merrimack hotel and at 8 o'clock on the evening of the 13th the drawing for positions in the parade will be made.

The regular meeting of the New England League officials was held Tuesday at Boston and from what was reported there it is expected that the coming affair in Lowell promises to be the biggest and most successful of its kind ever held. Several of the companies who at the start made known the fact that they did not intend to enter, have changed their minds and expect to be on hand to contest for the many prizes offered.

Tonight the Butler Vets will have their regular practice on the North common and the new Gold-stone machine on which the Butlers have an option will be tried out. Whether the Butlers decide to purchase the New Hampshire machine or not, they cannot use it in the muster as the old machine is entered and must be used. But the members are of the opinion that the new machine is "a good wan" and will bring them prizes in the future. The Butlers from Jim Walker down to the humblest member were never more enthusiastic than this year and large attendance are to be found at every practice.

THE MOHAIR CLUB DAY OF FASTING

Will Play in Boston Next Saturday For Members of Hebrew Churches

The Mohair cricket club will go to Boston Saturday and will play the team representing the Boston cricket club at Franklin field. The local team will be represented by the following: Captain, D. Hird; Barrett, Priestly, Barber, Shaw, Croft, Jr., Hyde, Hunt, Whitaker, Foxon and Walmsley; reserve J. Harrison; umpire, W. Croft, sr.; scorer, M. E. Williams; mascot, Marshall.

On Friday evening, August 14th, the club will throw open the doors for a ladies night and as they have been so helpful in the social gatherings, the committee intends to provide one of its best evening's entertainment possible. Col. A. M. Chadwick will be master of ceremonies and the following committee has been appointed to make the arrangements: Walter Holden, Charles Jenkins and Alex. E. Williams.

In memory of the destruction of the Second Temple in Jerusalem, by the Roman Emperor Titus, in the year 70, all orthodox members of Hebrew churches are today fasting and praying.

Not a morsel of food will be consumed by the faithful from midnight last night until midnight tonight. Tomorrow fasting will follow to mark rejoicing at the failure of Titus or any other potentate to efface the Jewish race and its religion.

To the synagogues Hebrews will flock and pray silently. It is the custom to enter, pray for 15 minutes and then return later and pray another 15 minutes. Much other time is usually spent in meditation.

Today is the ninth day of Ab, according to the Hebrew reckoning, and that is the day on which, according to tradition, the ruthless Titus destroyed the house of worship at Jerusalem.

The fast day today is known as Tisha B'eah.

Walter Holden leaves about the middle of the month for England.

Quite a contest is now on in the first team for batting and bowling honors, the silver cup for batting being probably the most coveted. This was given last year by A. B. Martin and is at present held by Harry Morley. The T. B. Leeds prize for bowling is generally keenly contested for and several are now fighting for first position.

As will be seen William Croft, jr., has received his transfer from the Zion cricket club and will be found with the Mohairs hereafter and his friends wish him every success.

Tom Southam who played so many years with the Mohair club will again be found with his old team as he has also applied and received his transfer. Southam was captain of the team in one of its championship years.

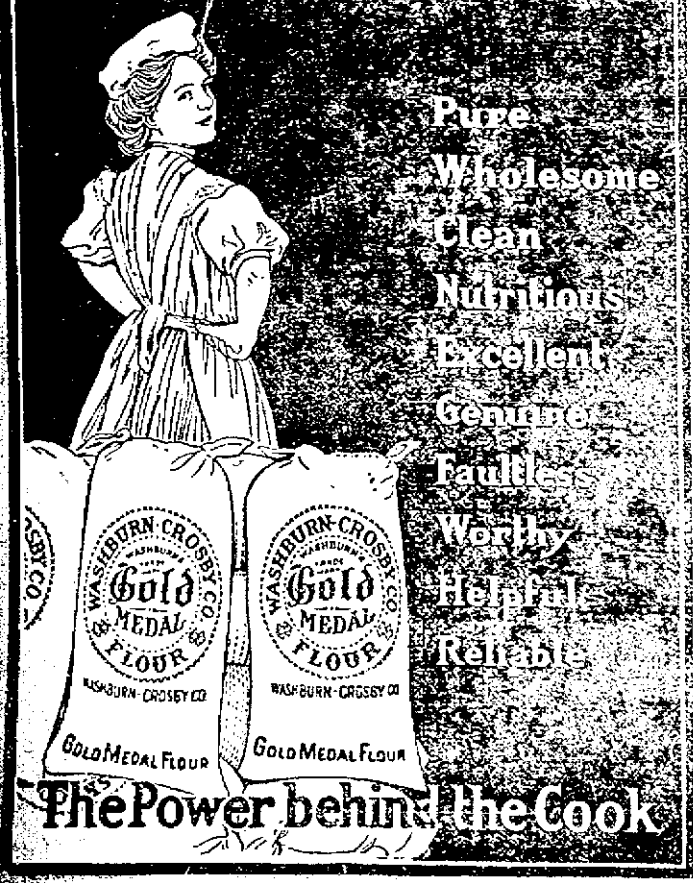

Hampden Hyde is also a new man on the team, having located in this city. He was last with the Providence club and is considered a good bat.

TERROR "GANG"

Caused Much Trouble at Salem, N. H.

SALEM, N. H., Aug. 6.—After terrorizing the residents of this section for several days and stripping gardens of all kinds of vegetables which they sold to cottagers, Michael Welch of Manchester, Daniel O'Leary and James Lynch of Derry, Philip Fay, Frank Cody, Emory Smith and Maurice Dee, some of whom claimed Lawrence and others known as their residents, were arrested here early yesterday by special policemen, assisted by citizens.

They were found occupying a deserted brick factory and after their arrest they were taken into a hayrack and brought to Salem for arraignment yesterday. Judge Pulver sentenced each of them to 60 days at the Rockingham county farm at Brentwood.

PYTHIAN SISTERS

Float Collapsed and Twenty Were Injured

BOSTON, Aug. 6.—Twenty Pythian sisters were injured, two of them dangerously, when the rear wheel of the float "Truth and Justice" came off on Charles street yesterday, just as they were about to enter the parade.

Confusion reigned on the crowded thoroughfare.

Women rushed hither and thither in an attempt to bring first aid to the injured. Three women became hysterical.

Pitiful it was when women shed tears at seeing their float, upon which had worked for more than a week, rendered useless for the parade.

The injured women were the most prominent members of the Medford Graddock, the Melrose and the Somerville Wagon lodges. The float was elaborately decorated to represent "Truth and Justice" and owing to the originality of its design was expected to rank among the first in the parade.

At a rapid pace the float was being driven by four white horses down Charles street when the float tipped backward as a wheel fell upon the ground.

Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Johnson were sitting in the rear of the float. They were pitched to the pavement, striking on their sides. Mrs. Leelan and Mrs. Ellis, who impersonated "angels," were able to jump and landed on their feet.

The other women were hurled against each other.

The Eye and Ear Infirmary, opposite which the accident occurred, opened its doors to the sufferers and provided medical attendance. Mrs. Johnson was bleeding so profusely that the doctor at the institution dared not treat her, and sent her immediately to the Massachusetts General hospital.

Nine women each from Somerville, Medford and Melrose lodges constituted the 27 who were in the float. They were known as the parade committee. Mrs. Annie E. Manzer, one of those quite severely shaken up, was the committee's chairman.

The float had been presented to them by a Somerville Knight of Pythias.

SUES FOR $5000

Oshland Man Takes Objection to Circular

Michael P. Gay of Ashland filed a suit in the superior civil court, East Cambridge, yesterday, against Allen W. Adams, alleging that he published, at a recent town election, a certain printed political circular which refers to the plaintiff as "half-breed." The suit is for $5000 damages.

The circular was signed "Law and Order." A paragraph reads: "Do not be misled and vote for a ticket conceived and braided into existence by the man who cost the town $5000 only two years ago for the town hall, so that he might spin around in the windy maze." The open-mouthed, ever-present rage of Pleasant street and the jailbird of Metropolitan avenue.

RESCUED A DOG

From Drowning in Dutton St. Canal

Early this morning before the mill people went to work, considerable excitement was caused by the efforts of a crowd to rescue a dog from drowning in the canal on Dutton street.

The canine had been in the water about half an hour swimming up and down the canal from the Carpet sluiceway to the Machine shop gate, while men on both sides tried in vain to reach him. The animal seemed to be afraid of his captors and judging from the manner in which he snapped and twisted in the water, some people thought he was mad. The fact was, however, that the dog was badly exhausted and in danger of drowning. Finally a young man named Archie Leblanc succeeded in reaching him with a pole and getting him to the edge of the water so that he was landed on the bank. The dog seemed to be a valuable animal of the hound species and the inscription on the collar was "H. Castor Roberts street."

Mr. Castor Roberts set out soon after to lead the dog to the address on the collar. The attempt to rescue the animal caused many to suppose that a man had been drowned and that the dog swimming about was but helping in the search.

SUICIDE'S FATE

Man Asked Loan to Save Him From It

CHICAGO, Aug. 6.—The cup of happiness overflowed yesterday for the poor Italian with a family of eight children who advertised for the loan of $500 to save him from a suicide's fate. Instead of death he took a new lease on life. Following a morning newspaper's announcement of two subscribers' offer to loan the man $250, his employer, discovering the identity of the unfortunate, agreed to retain him in his employ and arrange for the making good of the shortage on easy payments. The Italian consul will also be asked to institute proceedings to compel a restitution of a usurious interest exacted by the loan sharks.

INCENDIARY FIRE

Caused Loss of $300,000 at Midway, Ky.

MIDWAY, Ky., Aug. 6.—This town half way between Lexington and Frankfort, was the scene of a fire that for a time threatened the town with destruction last night. The fire which is believed to have been of incendiary origin, destroyed five warehouses of the S. J. Greenbaum Distilling company entailing a loss estimated at $300,000. The amount of insurance is not known but it is believed that the loss is amply covered.

The flames caused by the burning of forty-seven thousand barrels of whiskey which turned a creek nearby into a fierce torrent, could be seen for ten miles. The flames as they coursed down the surface of the creek destroyed the Southern railroad trestle and half a dozen negro cabins.

Hot Stove—Cool Kitchen

How do you expect to endure the broiling days of summer if you prepare all the food over a glowing coal fire?

You need a "New Perfection" Oil Stove that will do the cooking without cooking the cook. It concentrates plenty of heat under the pot and diffuses little or none through the room. Therefore, when working with the

the kitchen actually seems as comfortable as you could wish it to be.

This, in itself, is wonderful, but, more than that, the "New Perfection" Oil Stove does perfectly everything that any stove can do. It is an ideal all-round cook-stove. Made in three sizes, and fully warranted. If not with your dealer, write our nearest agency.

The Rayo Lamp

a substantial, strongly made and hand-burns for hours with a strong, mellow light. Just what you need for evening reading or to light the dining-room. If not with your dealer, write our nearest agency.

FAMOUS HORSE

Jay Eye See is Reported Dying

A story with a shade of sadness comes from Racine, Wis., of the decrepitude and approaching death of that stout-hearted little trotter, Jay Eye See, now 30 years old, the first horse to trot a mile to harness in 2:10, which he did at the Narragansett park, Cranston, R. I., Aug. 1, 1884, driven by Edwin Bither.

The horse was bred by Col. Richard West of Lexington, Ky., and was by Dictator, a brother of the renowned Dexter, son of Hambletonian, dam Twilight, by Pilot, Jr., grand-dam Twilight, by Lexington, the great four-mile race horse.

In 1883 Ed Bither trotted the horse as a five-year-old over the Providence track in 2:11.4. The next year the horse was taken to Providence for the express purpose of establishing a world's trotting record. It was a gala day, as the residents of Providence were in attendance by the thousands and train loads went down from Boston.

The star event was the performance of Jay Eye See, who single and alone trotted in 2:10. It was the first mile ever recorded at that figure.

Anty Drudge Smooths Over a Domestic Difficulty.

Wife—"John, you've just got to get some one to care for that auto. Your clothes are full of grease, dirt, cement and dear knows what all. I've tried every chemical cleanser I know, but I can't get them clean."

Anty Drudge—"And you've missed the only thing that will make them clean. Fels-Naptha will take out every spot. Try it! You'll see!"

Men who drive automobiles are learning that Fels-Naptha is a necessary part of a motoring outfit. It is the only soap that will quickly take oil and grease from their hands and faces in cool or lukewarm water.

Most of the women who wash clothes for men who drive or build automobiles learned long ago that Fels-Naptha will take out grease and grime better than any other soap. And Fels-Naptha does it in cool or lukewarm water without boiling the clothes and without hard-rubbing.

The Fels-Naptha way of washing is just as modern as the automobile. The progressive woman has said goodbye to the slow-coach, washboiler, hard-rubbing way of washing and has got aboard the time-saving, labor-saving, clothes-saving Fels-Naptha way of washing.

If you don't know the Fels-Naptha way of washing, it will take only one trial to convince you. Follow easy directions printed on the red and green wrapper.

$70,000 PURSE

Spanish Queen Won the Big Race

KALAMAZOO, Mich., Aug. 5.—Spanish Queen justified the confidence of her friends yesterday, when she won the Burdick House purse of $10,000, the banner offering of the Kalamazoo grand circuit meeting. Her nearest competitor was the mare Alcete, the owner's stable, and Alcete made the winner equal her record of 2:07 1-4 to win the second heat. The big race was marred by the unexpected unsteadiness of every horse from which any good work was expected and this accounted for the slow time made in three of the four heats that were necessary to finish the contest. But for the break made by Spanish Queen when she was leading down the back stretch in the first heat, there would undoubtedly have been but three heats trotted.

The real race of the day was furnished by three of the five starters in the 2:19 class for trotters, and at the end of the five hard fought, though not fast, heats, Lou McDonald's mare Marvelette was returned the winner. Alcete had an easy time of it in the 2:20 pace, and was not compelled to step within two seconds of her best record to win.

Followers of the sport were given a big surprise, when the Oklahoma pacer Shamrock easily defeated Maybird and Minnie in the 2:14 class for which but four horses started.

KIRKWOOD WON State Title His for Fifth Time

WELLINGTON, Aug. 6.—The sixth shoot for the amateur trap shooting championship of Massachusetts was held at the grounds of the Palefaxes yesterday afternoon. Horace Kirkwood won the title for the fifth time with a score of 49 out of 50 targets, shooting from the 15-yard mark. His nearest opponent was "Buffalo" Smith, who broke 45, while the veteran "pro" shooter, O. R. Dickey of Wellington, was third with 41.

The weather conditions were good in the early part of the afternoon, when the rain stopped, but after the rain stopped, a puff of wind which made the targets swing the last half of the afternoon, during which three matches were decided. These were the Lewis trophy match of 50 targets with added bird handicaps, the trophy being the gift of A. A. Lewis of Fall River; the special 25-target match, also with added handicaps, and the high gun honors for the day in the program of 100 targets.

The Lewis trophy was won by Robert N. Burnes of Cambridge, who broke 43 out of the 50 targets thrown, with his handicap of six birds, gave him first place with a final score of 49. The 25-target special match was won by "Buffalo" Smith, who made a gross score of 24 out of 25, his added handicap making his total 49. The high gun honors for the day's program went out to O. R. Dickey with a total of 88 out of 100. The scores:

AUTOMOBILE NEWS

There are few things more abhorred by motorists than the auto traps that are associated with men in hiding seeking to catch drivers unaware, says Reginald Casey, a well known Boston motorist. "Traps are always put in on the very best stretches of road where a little speed would not matter much. No one ever heard of a trap being placed on a bad stretch of road. Men driving automobiles desire to break the speed laws, and in most cases where one is caught in a trap and arrested it is shown that the violation was unintentional, a stretch of road that was smooth and straight causing the driver to let out a little speed."

The Automobile Owners association is endeavoring to break up the traps. This organization, just as much against oversteering as the police and country constables, and is composed of level headed business men, whose names are well known all over the country. As one method of breaking up traps the organization has gone to the expense in some cases of placing men near them with instructions to hand out cards requesting drivers to stop at the place and drive slowly. The association feels that if drivers do that the "squirrels" at the traps will find it to do and their work will be less lucrative.

In cases where drivers have received cards they have complied with the request. If the police really wish to stop speeding, they argue, a good way to do it would be to have notices posted at the entrance of the towns requesting the drivers to pass through slowly, or for the men at the traps to make their presence known instead of hiding. If this were done the fines would be lost.

The collection of mail by automobiles has been tried in Milwaukee with very satisfactory results, a number of stations with special bodies being used for the purpose. Further experiments are to be made by the post office department in the city of Washington, D. C., with a view of substituting motor vehicles for horses and wagons if the tests are successful. Postmaster Barnes has secured an allowance of $1440 for the purchase and maintenance of two single cylinder Cadillac cars, which will be expected to make two routes now covered by horse and wagon service. One of these routes is located in the upper part of the city and the other in the lower part. While the motor cars will cost $60 more than the horse and wagon, now used on these routes, they will result in the saving of two $1000 carriers who are assigned to carrier duty and thus better delivery service. Postmaster Barnes says, "If the results prove satisfactory it may lead to the entire substitution of the motor car for the horse and wagon collection service throughout the District of Columbia. The officials of the post office department are very much interested in the experiments and careful watch will be kept on the work of the automobile mail collection wagons so as to compare their performance with those of the regular horse drawn wagons."

After a car has been run for a time it sometimes happens that the motor will run well with the throttle partially closed while the car is standing still, but will miss explosions when the throttle is opened and the car is started with a load of passengers in it. In such cases it is often true that the batteries are weak, and that there is a "leak" somewhere in the coil or secondary wiring, or the points of the plugs are too far apart. The compression in the cylinder is increased when the throttle is open and a greater amount of electrical energy is required to force a spark across the points of the plugs. And while it may happen that a sufficient amount of energy is available from the battery and the resistance of the circuit is great enough to enable the spark to jump across the plug points at reduced compression due to the partial closing of the throttle, there is not enough current available to produce a spark at maximum compression. Of course as the compression is increased the amount of electrical energy necessary to force a spark through it across a given distance is correspondingly increased. In a case such as we have considered the remedy is to switch on a set of batteries, or if they are not available to bring the sparking points of the plugs slightly closer together.

Richard Croker, former Tammany chief, while trying to get a new automobile was stopped recently by a Dublin policeman. The driver of the car was charged with exceeding the legal limit of twenty miles an hour and he was charged with failure to sound his horn at a dangerous crossing. The driver was fined $50, but this time was later cut in half.

Automobiles of New Jersey as well as the large number of New Yorkers who have occasion from time to time to make trips into New Jersey will be glad to know that active steps have been taken to construct a road connecting Jersey City and Newark. John Griffin, counsel to the Hudson county Board of Freeholders, has announced that a highway to cost $1,000,000 will be constructed under the direction of the Freeholders of Hudson and Essex counties. He says that the engineers who are working on the plan are expected to have them completed so that contracts for the work can be awarded early next fall. The Public Service Railway company in return for the privilege of using the highway and a new bridge across the Passaic river for its cars is to pay one-fourth of the cost of constructing the highway. Essex county will pay five-eighths of the remaining and Hudson county three-eighths.

The new highway is to follow the line of the Newark Plank road, the original highway between Jersey City and Newark. It is a plank road for the greater part of its length and for the last twenty years has been in such bad repair that it has been used only by trucks and trolley cars. Owners of automobiles desiring to reach Newark have been compelled to make a wide detour by other roads, the Newark turnpike crossing Harrison and Kearny being in an equally bad condition. Many motorists have avoided the Mosquito state altogether on account of the roughness of these roads and the streets leading to them. The new highway is to have a smooth pavement. Mr. Griffin predicts that the opening of the highway will result in the development of the Newark meadows as the greatest manufacturing site in the east and that the revenue derived by taxation from this source will more than repay the two counties for building the highway.

DIAMOND NOTES
Yesterday's game with Lynn was postponed on account of rain, and a double-header will be played next Wednesday to make up.

One thing is certain, it can't be said that the lack of success of the home team is due to riotous living, for such is not the case, and most of the crowd will be found in company with Manager Sharrott every evening.

Paddy Duff is making good with New Bedford on first base.

We need a couple of pitchers, and need them badly. Why not exchange Rivard and Warner for one nine inning pitcher.

Haverhill is here tomorrow.

Bridwell is an artist with his hands on ground balls. He recalls Heinie Reitz in that respect.

In Mitchell and McLean the Reds have two of the tallest players in the game and in Huggins and Kane two of the shortest.

St. Seymour will climb up to the select company of 300 hitters soon if he keeps on slugging them out the way he is doing.

Bob Emslie, who gets more bumps than all the other umpires combined is suffering from an injured collarbone and not doing any work behind the bat.

If the Boston Americans keep on improving at the rate they have been doing since McGuire took hold they'll be up among the first flight next year.

Charley Murphy, the hustling kid, and his club make the only combination of magnate and team who have taken part in two world's championship series. Just at present Murphy is scouting, and if anybody can get what he goes out for it is he.

AMATEUR BASEBALL
The Crimsons of Centralville hereby challenge the Belviders Juniors for a game Aug. 8. Our averages are 10.0. We will expect you on our grounds, Tenth, corner Beacon street, Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The Emerald base ball team will play the Warrenville team Saturday, Aug. 8th. All players will meet at Merrimack square at 2 o'clock sharp.

The manager of the Collinsville team wishes to state that the Centralville Blues did not defeat the Collinsville Blues Saturday, but with the score a 5 to 8 in the ninth inning the Centralville Blues liberally walked off the field, when the umpire gave a decision, which they considered wrong. The umpire finally forfeited the game to Collinsville 9 to 0.

The Hooglan Sluggers would like to challenge any amateur team in the city under 13 years of age. Our line-up is as follows: T. Filiz, C. J. Dunlavy, P. T. Delmore, 1b. E. Savage, 2b. A. Morrison, 3b. J. McCarthy, 3b. Martin, 1b. K. Kallio, 1b. A. Ayer, 1b. Send all challenges to Thomas Delmore, 213 School street, city, or through this paper.

The Mammoth defeated the West Ends Saturday morning by the score of 12 to 5. In the afternoon they also defeated the St. Patrick's Altar boys by the score of 2 to 1. We challenge any team under 14 years of age. Send all challenges to Albert Sturtevant, 32 Brookside street, Pawtucketville, Yr. 21 re. each.

The purse was posted in the Sun office one week ago last Saturday, and there it will remain until such a time as the managers of the winning team desire to call for it.

SPANISH WAR VETS DANISH EXPLORERS

Arrangements for National Encampment Sept. 1 Perished in Far North After Achieving Success

The outing of Gen. Adelbert Ames command, United Spanish War Veterans, of Lowell will be held at Camp Phalanx, Tyngsboro, Aug. 16. The members of this camp will be represented at the coming annual national encampment to be held in Boston when President Roosevelt will be a guest. The national officers of the body and the Boston executive committee have been laboring hard to get Comrade Roosevelt to attend this encampment and they now feel certain that he will be there.

This is the first encampment of the Spanish War Veterans which can be termed a reunion of the men who fought in Cuba and the Philippines during 1898. It will be the fifth annual encampment of the organization, the previous affairs of the kind having been nothing more than delegate conventions. This year being the tenth anniversary of the war with Spain, and about the time the Massachusetts organizations were returning from the front, the department of Massachusetts decided to make the affair one in which the veterans, whether delegates or not, could participate.

Responses are being received every day from the states of the Union. Every state and territory will be represented by delegates, and the executive committee is satisfied that every state and territory will be represented in the big parade, which is to take place on Wednesday, Sept. 2. From present indications the parade will be made up of at least 15,000 veterans.

One of the largest camps in New York, Sergeant Hamilton Fish camp, is coming in large numbers. This camp will be the guests of George J. Whitten camp of Boston.

The committee in charge of the encampment is holding several meetings each week, and has arranged the following program of events for the entertainment of the guests:

Monday evening, Aug. 31, the delegates and invited guests to Boston will be tendered a banquet. The commander-in-chief and his staff will also be guests at the banquet. It is not known at present whether President Roosevelt will be at the banquet or not. His stay will be a very short one, and may be deferred until the day of the parade, Sept. 2.

The convention will be opened in Faneuil hall on the morning of Sept. 1 at 9 a. m., by Commander-in-Chief Hale. At the conclusion of the morning session the delegates and members of the order will be taken to Nantasket beach for a shore dinner.

The party will return in time for the big initiation into the order of the Serpent on Boston Common. At 5 p. m. there is to be a monster athletic exhibition, in which teams from the militia and army fortifications in and around Boston will take part.

Wednesday, Sept. 2. The morning will be taken up with a session of the veterans in Faneuil hall. The session will adjourn in time for the big parade, which will start from the Back Bay at 2 p. m. The parade will be full of features. The crew that cut the cable at Cienfuegos will be a big attraction. Every member of this crew is a medal of honor man. The crew that manned the Merrimack with Hobson will have a special place in line and Capt. Richmond P. Hobson will be with them. The survivors of the Maine, those that are not with the Atlantic fleet on the way to the antipodes, will be another feature, and if the men can be found, Dewey's Manila fighters will be designated in a prominent spot in the parade.

After the parade the 1st, 2d, 5th, 6th, 8th and 9th regiments and the naval brigade will have big reunions. For visiting veterans, who are not members of these organizations, the ladies' auxiliary has planned a big baked bean supper in the South armory. In the evening all hands will get together again for a monster campfire in Mechanics building, which will be addressed by Gov. Guild, Mayor Hibbard and the visitors, who will include President Roosevelt, Admiral Dewey, Rear Admiral Schley, Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood and other well known veterans and officers to be designated to represent the army and navy by President Roosevelt.

THE AMERICANS

Received in Audience by the Pope

ROME, Aug. 6.—The pope today received the American pilgrims who left New York last month under the direction of Right Rev. James McGeen and J. J. McGeen of Brooklyn. Mr. McGeen and Mr. McGeen and his wife were first received in private audience. Mr. McGeen presented the pope with a building in New York valued at $50,000 which is to be given to the Italian Salesian fathers for the establishment of a college. Subsequently the pope received the pilgrims numbering over 300 who were presented by Archbishop Farley. Mr. McGeen presented the pope with $500, the offerings of the pilgrims. The pope made a brief address in reply in which he thanked the pilgrims and imparted the apostolic blessing.

COPENHAGEN, Aug. 6.—Mylieus Erichsen, the Danish explorer, has met his death in the Far North. According to information just received in a telegram by a committee of the Greenland exploring expedition Erichsen and two of his companions that sailed from Copenhagen in June, 1906, to the unexplored regions of the northeastern coast of Greenland, perished in a snow storm. The three men were on an expedition over the ice when disaster overtook them.

Otherwise the exploring party has been successful. Large tracts of unknown land have been mapped out and the entire northeastern coast of Greenland has been chartered.

JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER

Saves Himself and Friends From a Serious Accident

CLEVELAND, Aug. 6.—A map said, home to confirm or deny the identity of the automobilist thought to be Mr. Rockefeller.

Rockefeller by quick action last night probably saved himself and automobile load of friends from what might have been a serious, if not fatal accident. The machine was being driven along a field avenue about seven o'clock. At the Cleveland and Pittsburg railroad crossing the auto was stopped while one of the party in the machine talked with a person who halted them from the sidewalk. While thus standing a train approached and the gates were lowered. The west gate fell across the machine and would have hit one of the occupants of the car had not the man supposed to be Mr. Rockefeller caught the guard and ordered the chauffeur to go ahead quickly. As they attempted to cross the tracks, progress was interfered with by the east gate. The crossing watchman by this time became active and raised the east gate an instant later. The auto cleared the tracks only a few seconds ahead of the passenger train. When the accident became known no one could be raised at the Rockefeller home to confirm or deny the identity of the automobilist thought to be Mr. Rockefeller.

FINE PROGRAM

BOSTON, Aug. 6.—Announcement was made today that the 25th meeting of the National Association of Cotton Manufacturers will be held at Saratoga Springs, Sept. 29 and 30 next. Special trains for the accommodation of members and guests of the association will be run from New York and Boston. A number of side trips have been planned and an interesting program has been arranged.

WILL RECOVER

Mrs. Wallace Believed to Be Out of Danger

SUNAPEE, N. H., Aug. 6.—Eugene Harriman, who attacked Mrs. Ella Wallace yesterday with a razor, and was subsequently found in the woods suffering from a deep gash on the throat was sufficiently recovered today to be taken by Deputy Sheriff King to Newport for a hearing.

Mrs. Wallace was also reported today as likely to recover but was unable to go to Newport as a witness in the case.

It was expected here that County Solicitor Clellis would ask for a continuation of the case at Newport until Mrs. Wallace could be in attendance.

200 BISHOPS

ARE PRESENT AT THE LAMBETH CONFERENCE.

LONDON, Aug. 6.—The Lambeth conference came to an end today with a vice at St. Paul's cathedral at which the bishop of Missouri delivered the sermon. The archbishop of Canterbury, the archbishop of York and 200 bishops were present. The conference has been in session for fifteen days and 24 bishops participated. Matters of church administration and ministry problems have been considered. An encyclical embodying the results of the conference is to be issued.

CAPT. BALDWIN

Made Successful Flights in Airship

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—Although Thomas S. Baldwin already has made two successful flights in the new dirigible balloon built for the army they were both made under difficulties. The original propeller shaft built for the machine was found defective at the last moment and a temporary shifting has been used during the Fort Mier flights. A new shaft in which it is believed the difficulties encountered so far have been overcome has arrived and as soon as it has been adjusted, probably today, Captain Baldwin will make a preliminary flight for speed.

At yesterday's test one of the most enthusiastic witnesses was Captain W. W. Kimball, a member of the naval examining and retiring boards. He has been detailed to attend the Fort Mier preliminary trials and to report his observations to the navy department. Assistant Secretary of the Navy Newberry will attend the official trials.

"While the navy is slow to take up anything that is in an experimental stage, the possible uses of aerial craft in our branch of the service is being closely followed. An airship such as Captain Baldwin's would be invaluable in time of war. It could be launched from the deck of a battleship and also could land there with comparative ease. If such an airship were available at Santiago, its services would have been worth many times its cost. Such a ship should accompany every fleet. The airship should be so constructed for naval use that it could be used as a captive balloon or a dirigible. The advantages of balloons for reconnaissance and locating mines have been proven invaluable by both the French and the Russians."

DUTCH STEAMER

ENTERED THE PORT OF CARUPANO, VENEZUELA.

WILLEMSTAD, Curacao, Aug. 6.—The Dutch steamer Prince Wilhelm II. arrived here today from Demerara. She stopped on her way up at Carupano, Venezuela. The report authorities did not prevent her entrance or having the ordinary communication with the shore. This is a departure from the previous attitude of Venezuelan officials who have recently been preventing Dutch vessels from calling at the ports of the republic.

Middle West Baseball Teams Stronger Than Eastern Rivals

Best Way to Better Weak Team Is to Buy Able Players -- The Home Run Record and Longest Hit Ever Made

tennis, swimming and various other sports will afford the chronic fan but little comfort. To him baseball is the king pin among sports.

The Only Remedy.

The only remedy for the eastern teams in attempting to strengthen themselves is to spend money. That is the great salacious advice that baseball playing wounds. Let them go out and spend large sums for tried men who have already "made good." That is the only remedy, and it is the only thing they will not take if baseball history repeats itself. Some baseball managers would much rather have a cheap losing team than an expensive winner.

St. Paul's Great Indian Catcher.

Although President Lennon of St. Paul has failed in his efforts to give his city a winning team this year, he has succeeded in unearthing the biggest sensation of the year in the American Association. Big Jack Myers, the Indian catcher, is without question the greatest find in minor league baseball this season. His playing has attracted the attention of the big league managers, and several of them are after him, including Connie Mack of Philadelphia, who it is said, is willing to pay almost any price for the redskin. Mr. Lennon, however, will not let him go and will do everything in his power to retain him for another season.

A "Home Run" Season.

A larger number of home runs than usual have been made in various leagues this year.

The Harrisburg and Reading teams, however, in the Tristate league recently posted up a record for the biggest number of home runs in a professional game. Eight homers were registered in the contest, Harrisburg getting five and Reading three.

Was This the Record Hit?

While there is no official record of the longest hit made in a professional game of baseball, Jack Cronin, the Providence pitcher, claims the distinction of accomplishing this feat, and his contention is backed up by Manager Stallings of the Indians, who saw him do the trick. Cronin made his mighty swing in the city of Minneapolis in 1909, when he was a member of the Detroit (American league) team, which was at that time managed by Stallings.

According to Stallings, the sphere traveled a distance of between 100 and 200 feet before it fell to the ground, and Cronin had time to walk around the bases two or three times before the ball was recovered. Cronin made the Homer of Red Earth, who was pitching for Minneapolis.

HARRY GRANT.

A Drama Likely to Repeat Its London Success In America

(From Our New York Dramatic Correspondent.)

It was William Somerset Maugham's "Lady Frederick" which finally broke down the barrier interposed between him and the London managers. It was this admirable comedy of intrigue and manners that provided a starter for the amazing popularity which this new playwright has wrested suddenly from British playgoers. The career of this work in London during the past ten months has proved to be an epoch-making performance in the history of modern dramatic exploitation. Its initial performance was given in a dingy and out of the way little theater early last season, but it triumphed at once and signally. Its run was continued successively at the Garrick and Criterion, and now, at its fourth stopping place, the New theater, it is still the best patronized play in London. It is now arranged that Charles Frohman will present Miss Ethel Barrymore in the title role of the delightful comedy next autumn.

The story of "Lady Frederick" is absorbing, and its humor is delicious. Neither the character of the heroine nor certain of the circumstances which attend her escapades are easily creditable, but the gloss of expert workmanship thrown liberally over it all atones for everything. All the characters are boldly and most effectively done, and the whole work sparkles with epigram and bristles with witty conceits. Lady Frederick, it must be confessed, narrowly escapes being an adventure. She is a woman of title who when a mere girl was married to a worthless fellow named Frederick Berolles. When she had managed to endure her bondage for ten years the death of her dissolute husband freed her, and not long afterward she lost her only child. Now she came to the sudden determination to make up for lost time and to see a little of the world. The opening of the play finds her at Monte Carlo, a leader in the fashionable fast set. Bankruptcy is imminent. She confesses that she has "squandered money as other women take morphine," whatever that may mean. She owes $175,000, and her creditors are becoming troublesome. In addition to all this, her brother, Sir Gerald O'Mara, is in the hands of a money shark.

Lady Frederick is not crushed by the unfavorable outlook. She is equipped with a quick wit and a charming Irish brogue, and she sets about without delay to clear away the impending darkness. She has many suitors, the most persistent of whom is Lord Mereston, a mere strippling, with whose uncle, Paroline Fouldes, she once came near having an intrigue. Fouldes is in Monte Carlo, summoned hastily by his sister to rescue young Mereston from his infatuation. The duel between Lady Frederick and her old admirer is one of wits and is exceedingly interesting, both holding trump cards. Lady Frederick finds that she may escape from her debts in either of two ways—she may accept $200,000 from Fouldes to relinquish his nephew or she may marry Captain Montgomery, the man who holds her paper.

She decides that she will do neither. She resolves to continue her game with Fouldes and the Merestons. She has documents which show that the deceased Lord Mereston, reputed to be a model of virtue, was once involved in a scandal. This is her trump card in the game. But Lady Mereston also has a trump card, a letter in Lady Frederick's own pretty cithography which refers to a questionable escapade in the charming little woman's own career. At the showdown, Lady Mereston, Lady Frederick and Fouldes being together, the latter makes her charge and produces the incriminating letter. To her utter dismay, her brother refuses to accept the evidence. He declares that a woman so clever as Lady Frederick could not have been so foolish. This gallantry on the part of her former admirer touches Lady Frederick, and she insists on being equally generous. She has in her hands the telltale letters which will make the deceased Lord Mereston's past detestable, but instead of yielding them she issues them into the bright soft coal fire which is burning in the grate, and they are consumed. Lady Mereston and Fouldes are overcome by her heroic magnanimity and do not hesitate to let it be known. That very afternoon young Mereston calls and makes a formal proposal, presumably with his mother's permission. But Lady Frederick has started in the right road, and she resolves to proceed further. She puts off her im-fortunate suitor, asks him to call another day when she feels less disturbed. When he returns for his answer he finds the lady of his dreams engaged in making her morning toilet. Then by every means at her command she proceeds to disillusionize the lovesick boy. She compels him to be a horrified spectator while she puts on her beautiful complexion and pencils artistic shadows beneath her eyes. The hair he so much admires becomes a hateful device of the coiffeur's. The callow kid retreats, thanking his stars that he has escaped.

Paroline Fouldes is not so particular. Lady Frederick's conduct in the matter of the letters has reminded the old game, and late in the day he drops in and takes up the woeing as it was left by his unsophisticated nephew. It is as his wife that Lady Frederick finds a welcome escape from all her troubles.

"Jack Straw" at the Empire. John Drew is to be the American exponent of the delightful character of Jack Straw in Maugham's comedy of that name. The story is of a family of parvenus punished for snobbery. Four years previous to the opening of the play young Sebastian, one of the numerous archdukes of Pomerania, had become infatuated with a dancer who was a sure enough high kicker and had been expelled from the country. Sebastian had followed her, but when he found that she was too plentifully supplied with husbands he went roaming under the name of Jack Straw.

When he makes his appearance in the play he is acting as a waiter in a big London hotel. There he is recognized by Ambrose Holland, the escort of Lady Wanley, as a member of a strolling company of players with which both had once toured. Ambrose keeps mum, and Jack is an admirable waiter. At the next table sit the Parker-Jenningses, vulgar rich who have come suddenly into enormous wealth. The son is as offensive as the father and mother, but the daughter, Ethel, is a dream of loveliness. Mrs. Parker-Jennings insults Lady Wanley, and that estimable woman instantly hits on a scheme of revenge. She asks Ambrose Holland to introduce Jack Straw to her enemies as a great foreign notability. Jack Straw, who has fallen in love with Ethel at first sight, agrees. His only condition is that he be introduced as Prince Sebastian of Pomerania. He retires and returns later without the false beard he has been wearing as a waiter. The end of the act finds the parvenus in full possession of their social acquisition.

The next two acts take place at the country seat of the Parker-Jenningses. A grand social function is to come off. Everybody is invited, including the Pomeranian ambassador. It is to be the Parker-Jenningses' hour of triumph, and it is evident that the price is deeply in love. Lady Wanley thinks her joke has gone far enough and asks Jack Straw to disappear. He declines. She threatens to expose him. Jack is indifferent. The exposure is made while the guests are arriving. Mrs. Parker-Jennings is furious, but she does not call the police on account of her fear of ridicule. Jack remains as a guest. Finally the Pomeranian ambassador is called in to expose the fraud. Jack and the representative of the court of Pomerania fall into each other's arms. They have been friends from childhood. Jack gets Ethel and goes home to live with the king's grandfather.

FREDERICK TREGELLES.

NEW RACES FOR THE FUTURE.

In view of the many expressions favorable to races for four-year-olds it would appear to be the part of wisdom for some of the racing associations to take the matter up and consider well the chance of making such a race a success. It is a good time now to do this, as the question can be thoroughly canvassed by the associations before the time for announcing such a race.

Several correspondents have written favorably of such a race provided the conditions were such that the great number of horses proved to be good in their three-year-old form may be drawn upon for support. To that end the time limit should be so fixed as to keep those horses out which were in the first flight of three-year-olds. There will be a large number of four-year-olds which no doubt would be entered in a 220 class for horses of their age. If there is no such class provided for them they will not take part in racing for a season, as no man likes to race his good four-year-old in the old age class. The four-year-old must be exceptionally good to make a favorable showing under prevailing conditions.

ROSE STAHL OF "THE CHORUS LADY," WHO WILL STAR ABROAD NEXT SEASON.

Rose Stahl's clever character portrayal of the title role in "The Chorus Lady," the James Forbes success, has carried her fame across the waters, and Henry B. Harris has arranged for a London appearance for her to begin next Easter. The hit scored by "The Chorus Lady" made both Mr. Forbes and Miss Stahl famous in a night. Mr. Forbes' new play, "The Traveling Salesman," opens at the Hudson theater, New York, Aug. 10.
